51. Read the story below carefully and answer the questions about it correctly.

Long ago mobile phones were very few people had phones. Most of the people who had mobile phones were rich men because they were very expensive.

In Abulabula village there was a very rich man called Ewora. Ewora was illiterate. This means he could not read or write. What made him rich was that he had a lot of cattle. Because of his wealth, people respected him so much.

On 28th June,1980, Ewora sold two head of cattle and headed to Kampala to buy a mobile phone. When one of the hawkers saw him, he realized that Ewora was a villager, so he rushed to convince Ewora to buy items from him. Ewora quickly chose a mobile phone and paid two million shillings. The hawker happily walked through the crowd and vanished.

The following day Friday, 29th June, 2018, Ewora went back home the proudest man. He reached home at five O'clock in the evening and his neighbours crowded in his home to welcome him. With all the pride, Ewora picked the phone and showed them. One of the people tried to operate the phone. Alas! He shouted, "Ewora you have bought a toy phone." On hearing that, Ewora shouted, "All the two million shillings?" and collapsed.

"Education is better than riches, " every one whispered.

SECTION B: 50 MARKS
Questions 51 to 55 carry ten marks each.

51. Read the composition below and answer the questions about it. It was written in term two, 2023.

Have you ever won a prize for doing something good at school? Well, here is a composition about Monica, the most disciplined girl.

Last month, Monica received a big prize for being the most disciplined girl in the school. The prize was given to her by the chief guest, the DEO of KCCA. Before the Chief Guest could gave her the prize, the teacher in charge of discipline mentioned some of the good things Monica had done at school. He began by saying that Monica is a very good girl because she greets every one she meets on the way.

Secondly, she is very responsible; she comes to school early, she keeps her uniform clean, she cares for and protects the young children of nursery and P.1 by carrying for them their bags. When it comes to the compound, Monica plants grass to reduce the dust in the compound. She does all the work the teachers give her.

The other important thing about Monica is that she is polite and humble. When she makes a mistake, she quickly says, "I am sorry". The teacher concluded by saying that Monica is the best pupil because she does the right thing, in the right place at the right time.

After listening to all the good things about Monica, the chief guest gave her the prize. The chief guest then pulled out fifty thousand shillings from her bag and gave it to Monica. She promised to buy a new uniform and shoes for the best pupil the following term.

52. Read the passage below and, in full sentences, answer the questions that follow.

Njerende is Mr. Mukooli's neighbour in Mbetye Village in Eastern Uganda. Both of them are mixed farmers who grow maize and keep goats on their farms.

On Saturday 6th September 2016, Mr. Mukooli woke up and went in his goat shed in the morning to check on his goats. He found six of them missing. He asked the neighbour whether he had seen any of his goats, but the neighbour said that he had not seen any of the goats. So, at around 10:00, Mr. Mukooli went to Budindi Police Station and reported the missing goats to the officer in charge, constable Amayi Juma. Mr. Mukooli recorded a statement and went back to his home.

At around 2:00 p.m. the following day, Mr. Mukooli received a telephone call from the O.C. station, telling him that the person who stole the goats had been arrested and taken to the police station. Mr. Mukooli went to the police station immediately and he was surprised to see his neighbour, Njerende in the cell. Njerende confessed that he had stolen the goats to sell them to pay school fees for his two children. He pleaded with Mr. Mukooli to settle the matter without going to court. Mr. Mukooli agreed and told him to return the goats he had stolen and, in addition, pay a fine of two goats.

COMMUNICATION NOW AND THEN

In the olden days before the coming of the white man,
In those days gone by when forests rolled in valleys,
The village chief played the drum early in the morning,
To call the people far and wide for community service,
Roads to make and, wells to dig,
For all was peaceful, orderly and good to look at.

In these modern days after the coming of the white man,
In these days of Internet, dot-com and Smart phones,
People spend the whole day surfing and sending text messages
They have no time to make roads, dig wells or help others,
For nobody cares what happens to his/ her neighbour or relative.

SECTION B (50 MARKS)

51. Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow.

The month of March, April and May have a lot of rain. Rain is good because farmers need it for their crops and animals.

Children enjoy playing in the rain. Others stand under tall trees when it is raining. This is very dangerous. Rain comes with lightning which kill or make a person lame forever.

TekArt Learning

In 2011, four children were struck by lightning as they were playing in the rain. The three girls and a boy were pupils of Kisa Primary School in Luweero District. They were admitted in Nakaseke Main Hospital but they died of severe burns.

Rain can also cause more problems. This year, the people of Bududa District suffered very much. After a heavy down pour, the rocks, plants and homes on the mountain were washed away. Many people were killed and buried under the soil and rocks. Up to now those who survived have not rebuilt their demolished houses.

The government has warned people to avoid building on hills and valleys to avoid landslides. It has also warned little children from playing in the rain as they can be struck by lightning.

So that you can drive safely and comfortably.

Toolbox in the hand very early every morning,
The honest mechanic goes to his place of work
To repair broken down engines and gearboxes
So that you can drive safely and smoothly.

Seated in a strong and reliable breakdown
The honest mechanic is called in the afternoon
To tow broken down cars to the garage
So that they are soundly repaired for safe use.

Toolbox in the hand very late every evening,
The hungry, tired mechanic goes home every evening
To take food, clothes and other comforts to his family
So that they can stay happy, hopeful and united.

BALU LOSES ELECTIONS FOR GAMES PREFECT AT FFENE PRIMARY SCHOOL

Ffene Primary School organises elections for prefects in the second week of September every year. The prefects are elected to help teachers in maintaining discipline and order in the school. The exercise always starts with picking forms from Mr. Pingu, the chairperson of the body that organises elections in the school. After filling the forms, the pupils wishing to stand in the elections then look for three teachers on the staff to support them by signing on the forms. The signed forms are then returned to the committee made up of seven teachers and two pupils from P. 7. The committee then writes a list of pupils allowed to contest for different posts.

Last year Balu decided to take part in the elections for prefects. He picked, filled and had his forms signed by Mr. Oto, his science teacher, Miss. Abo, his teacher of English and Mrs. Kuno, his teacher of Mathematics. He returned the forms to the organizing committee. He was lucky because the committee allowed him to contest for the post of Games Prefect.

At first Balu's campaigns went well in P. 3, P. 4 and P.5. Things started going wrong in P. 6 when the pupils in the class asked him to tell them the game he participated in. Balu had no answer as he had none. To make matters worse, he tried to bribe the pupils with sweets. On 11th September, which was the election day, Balu came second after losing to Ekemu, who was the captain of the school football team. Kato, the other pupil who contested for the same post came third in the election.

SECTION B (50 marks)

51. Read the poem below carefully and answer questions about it.

The main Post Office,
Located on Kampala road,
Busy place it is,
The queue at the counter is long,
The old and the young come,
To send letters and parcels.

The main Post Office is a busy and noisy place,
People talk while they wait to be served,
They speak in many languages,
Languages spoken in Uganda, Africa,
And overseas countries.

The Main Post Office is friendly, too,
People greet each other and shake hands,
To express love and friendship,
The fair – haired French tourist,
Smiles at a light – skinned Rwandan,
As she greets her, "Bonjour."

The main Post Office is a meeting place,
For people of different tribes,
And different nationalities,
From all over the world.

Jumba	What kind of box is that? Let me touch it and see.
Odeta	Never touch what you are not sure of!
Konde	It seems you are right. Our parents and teachers always warn us not to touch objects that are left lying around. Some could be bombs and they kill us.
Birungi	But you always come to this garage and you don't know what kind of box this is!
Odeta	If you are so informed then simply tell us what the box is.
Konde	Ah! She is just teasing us again. I remember now. That is where daddy keeps rat poison.
Birungi	(laughs) A box of rat poison in a garage! Be serious, my friend.
Odeta	You just called us to tease us?
Birungi	Ok, now, it is a tool box.
Jumba	Yes, that is what I was about to say.
Odeta	But you did not say it.
Jumba	Let me open the toll box now. (He opens the box). This is a pair of scissors.

51. Read the passage below carefully and answer the questions about it correctly.

In first term this year, the teacher of English, Mr. Joshua Edube told us that we were going to learn about vehicle repair and maintenance. I felt happy to hear this because I had not known any part of a vehicle or the tools used to repair vehicles.

When we started learning this topic, he taught us that the engine gives a vehicle power to move; a driver switches on the blinker to signal that he wants to turn and that, a passenger fastens himself with a seatbelt to avoid being thrown out of his seat. He also talked about other parts of a vehicle.

One day the teacher asked me, "John, have you ever visited a garage?" "No sir," I replied. The teacher promised to take the whole class to a garage the following week. When the day reached, he took us to Adengu's garage which is just one kilometer away from our school.

We reached the garage at ten O'clock in the morning. We found a mechanic called Eiku, who showed us the different tools he uses in repairing vehicles. One of the tools was a spanner. He said it is used for loosening and tightening nuts and bolts. He also showed us a car jack which he said is for lifting vehicles. He showed us a lot more tools and put them back in his tool box.

Dear Andrew,

I am writing to inform you that my birthday is next week. Remember I was born on 8th November 2006. My parents are organizing for me a birthday party. The venue of the party is Acacia Mall, Ntinda. There is a lot on the programme, so please, don't miss. Mummy has booked for me a very big cake and I have to cut it with you. I told mummy that you love fried chicken, so it should also be put on the menu. There are lots of entertainments but I can't wait for the dancing competitions. I even told my cousins that nobody can beat you at dancing. A bouncing castle is also going to be hired for the little children.

Please, come with your little sister, Angel to have fun. Please, dress decently because I am going to introduce you to my guests as my best friend.

Send my regards to your family.

Your friend,

OUR HOUSE

Our house is round
And made from soil and cow dung
With a roof made from grass
It allows no rain into the hut
Oh! I am proud of our house

Our house is round
It is called a hut
The ceiling is not needed
It has one door and one window
What a lovely house we have!

Our house is round
It has one bedroom
A kitchen for cooking food
Shelves where we put our books
Oh! How lovely our house is!

It was Keza's first time to go shopping. So on that Saturday morning, she woke up with a lot of excitement. She took a bath at around seven o'clock in the morning. After bathing, she took her breakfast and then made a shopping list. She showed the list to her mother who praised her for the good job.

The mother gave her one hundred thousand shillings and a shopping bag. At eight o'clock, the driver was ready. They drove to Naalya Supermarket. At the entrance, she washed her hands and entered. She picked items like milk, wheat, juice, rice, pringles , biscuits and tea leaves.

After selecting the items, she walked to the cashier's desk. There she paid for the items and the cashier gave her a receipt. The items were packed in a white bag and Keza walked out happily. She joined the driver and they drove back home in Kireka.
