It was in October, 2024 when my relatives accompanied me to the airport. At 8:00 they announced my flight over the loud speaker "Flight QU14 is now boarding. Passengers travelling to London. Gate Wick, by Air Uganda must please go to gate number one." We were many of different nationalities and languages. We picked out bags and walked towards the plane.

On the plane, I met people from Britain, America, China, Germany and of course we the Ugandans. I was feeling a bit of excitement being my first time in a plane. The air hostess came and guided me on how to fasten a seat belt. Later, she told me that she is a Congolese from Congo Brazzaville. I told her I am a Ugandan from Gulu. She was so happy to meet a person from the northern part of Uganda. The plane moved away from the terminal and lifted itself off the ground with a great roar. I asked the German seated next to me the height planes normally fly above the ground. He told me 25,000 feet. I became scared and worried but he told me to stay calm because everyone was safe. I told him I was going to visit my cousin Johnson in America.
