SECTION B

51. Read the passage below and answer in full sentences the questions that follow

All schools in Uganda and elsewhere hold debates. These debates are intended to improve fluency of pupils, develop confidence among them, provide an opportunity for them to express themselves and develop a sense of reasoning. Last term in April, we had a very exciting debate in our school. It was organized by the head of department together with the teachers of English. The head of department, English gave each class a motion and preparations started right away. Pupils of my class, primary six Red started gathering points and on the day of the debate, each of them was very eager to support or oppose the motion.

At exactly 3.00 p.m., all the pupils went to the main hall and as soon as they had settled, the chairman called the house to order and anthems began.
After the anthems, the chairperson welcomed the members to the debate and introduced the main officials. Immediately after that short introduction, he invited the main speakers to give their views. First were the proposers, the first person was very firm with a lot of ideas and very exciting. He made the audience and all his opponents to stand on their toes for all the time he spoke.

The second speaker was the opposer and he had many challenges to convince his audience. They fired him questions but he did not try to answer any of them. He instead started crying because he had no answers at all.
The debate continued with hot arguments from the start to the end to the level that some people wanted to fight over some hurting ideas raised. By the time we ended, the chairperson had got tired of calling the house to order.

The Will to Win

If you want a thing badly enough,
Go out and fight for it
Work day and night for it
Give up your time and your peace
And your sleep for it
If only desire of it
Makes you quite mad enough
Never to tire of it

Makes you hold all other things tawdry
And cheap for it
If life seems all empty and useless without it
And all that you scheme and dream about it
If gladly, you'll sweat for it
Fret for it, plan for it.
The lazy one will not achieve it
Will only cry after failing
