PREFACE

Excel Standard Social Studies, Pupils' Book Four has been developed basing on the revised Primary Four Social Studies Syllabus as prescribed by the new curriculum of the National Curriculum Development Center (NCDC). The book contains accurate, relevant and current information covering all topics in all terms of the year in their order. It is intended to guide both teachers and learners.

The Pupil's book cares for the interests of the learners in terms of simple and concise language used, simplified content to cater for all learners with different abilities and clear illustrations to make learning enjoyable through observation. Key words for each topic have also been included in order to enrich the learner's vocabulary and mastery of concepts.

The topics have well organised, relevant, and easy to understand notes and facts. It is written in a simple language and is well aided with maps and illustrations/diagrams where necessary to ease understanding.

The book is remarkably precise but detailed in content with no fact left hanging. It has been mainly written for Primary Four in a language that is suitable for both rural and urban Pupils. The book can therefore be used with minimum teacher guidance. However, the content contained in this book is mostly developed around Kampala district, and this requires teachers outside Kampala to enrich it and include important features/ places in other districts

The book has inbuilt and continuous assessment activities at the end of topic. These questions are to help the learners to test their understanding of the concepts covered and are to enable the teacher to track progress as coverage goes on. This also makes the book convenient for individual and class learning by the pupils.

The content of the book has been enriched to enable learners get solutions to the three main levels of assessment at primary level that is to say: Knowledge, Comprehension and Application.

The book is intended to provide learners with knowledge, skills and the desired attitudes and values of Social Studies and the Environment that are important to prepare learners for final assessment of the primary level.

The book is written and developed by experienced teachers of Social Studies and Religious Education and we welcome all comments on the publication with an open mind for the improvement in the teaching and learning of Social Studies. MAPS AND PICTURES.

- A map is a drawing/ representation of an object as seen from above.
- Maps show how objects look like when viewed directly from above.
- We use symbols to help us understand and interpret a map of a detailed area.
- The boundary of a map determines the size and shape of the map.
- A picture is a representation of an object drawn as seen from aside.
- All features on a picture can be clearly seen as real objects.
- Pictures are more detailed than maps.

a tree
a plate
a pot
a house
a chair
a cup
a hut

a car
a table

Similarity between maps and pictures.

- Both are representations of objects.

- A picture is drawn as seen from aside while a map is drawn as seen from above.
- A picture is more detailed than a map.

1. Give the meaning of each of the following;
   (i) A picture
   (ii) A map
2. Give one way a map is similar to a picture.
3. Why is it easier for one to understand a picture of an object than its map?
4. How is a map different from a picture?
5. Draw the maps of the following objects.

a cup	a circular table	a pot	a tree

ELEMENTS OF A MAP.

- A key
- A scale
- A heading/ title
- A compass direction
- A frame.

Importance of different elements of a map.

Element	Importance
❖ A compass direction	❖ It helps to show the direction of places on a map

Element missing	Challenge a map reader is likely to face
▪ Without a compass direction	• Failure to know the direction of places on a map

MAP SYMBOLS.

- These are features that are used to represent real objects on a map.

Why symbols are used on maps.

- ❖ To avoid congestion on the map.
- ❖ To make map reading easy.
- ❖ To ensure neatness of the map.

Common symbols used on maps.

A rift valley	waterfall	A dam	A canal	A swamp

A quarry	A hill	airport	contours	a factory

Railway line	A port	hospital	mountain peak	permanent lake

A SCALE.

- A scale helps a map reader to calculate the actual ground distance on a map.
- A map reader who reads a map without a scale may fail to calculate the actual ground distance on a map.
- A scale is only found on accurate maps.
- A sketch map is a map which is not drawn to scale while an accurate map is a map which is drawn to scale.

Types of scales.

This is the type of scale drawn using lines that are divided into equal parts.

(ii) Rational/ fractional scale.

This is the type of scale written as a mathematical fraction.

It can also be written as a ratio.eg.$\frac{1}{100\text{km}}$ or 1:100km.

(iii) Statement scale.

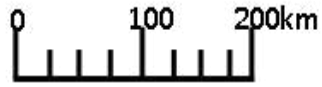

This type of scale can be given as a statement or words.

Eg.1cm on a map represents 100km on the ground.

MEASURING AND CALCULATING DISTANCE OF PLACES USING A SCALE

Example 1.

Find the actual ground distance between town Q and town S if there is a distance of 6cm between the two towns on the map using the scale below.

Solution;

1cm = 100km

6cm = (6×100)km

Therefore, the actual ground distance between Town Q and Town S is 600km.

Example 2.

Calculate the actual ground distance from town A to town B on the diagram below.

using a scale 1cm represents 10km

Solution;

1cm = 10km

5cm = (5×10)km

Therefore,the actual ground distance between Town A and Town B is 50km.

Example 3.

Find the actual ground distance between Kampala and Jinja if there is a distance of 8cm between the two towns on the map.(use the scale 1cm=10km)

Solution;

1cm = 10km

8cm = (8×10)km

Therefore,the actual ground distance between Kampala and Jinja is 80km.

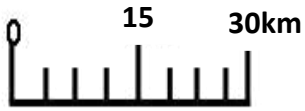

6. Mention any four elements of a map.
7. State the importance of each of the above elements to a map reader.
8. Draw the map symbols of each of the following features.

a railway line	a swamp	a bridge	a mountain peak

9. Which problem is a map reader likely to face when reading a map without a key?
10. Give any two reasons why symbols are always used on maps instead of real objects.
11. Mention the two types of scales used on maps.
12. Why are maps drawn by P.4 pupils referred to as sketch maps?
13. Mention the three types of map scales.
14. Calculate the actual ground distance between town W and town Y if there is a distance of 8cm between the two towns on the map.
    (using the scale 1cm=10km)
15. Name the type of scale is shown below.

HOW TO LOCATE PLACES.

- Location is the place where something is found.
- Location refers to the position of something or a place.

Ways of telling direction of places.

- By using the position of the sun.
- By using the compass.

Ways of locating places.

- By using maps.
- By using land marks eg. hills, mountains
- By using neighbourhood/ neighbouring places.
- By using a compass.

- By using the grid reference system/ lines of latitude and lines of longitude.
- By using a compass direction.
- By using the neighbourhood.
- Using landmarks.

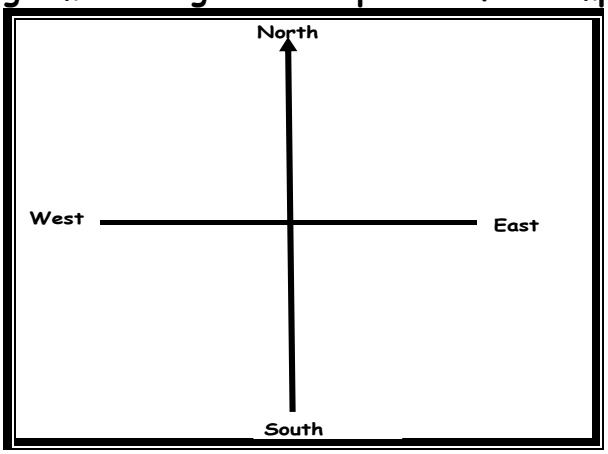

USING A COMPASS.

- A compass is an instrument used to show direction of places.
- A compass direction is the symbol used to show direction of places on a map.
- A compass needle always points to the North when a compass is at rest.
- The determinant point of a compass is North.
- A compass rose is a drawn compass.

Cardinal points of a compass.

- Cardinal points are the four major points of a compass.
- Cardinal points of a compass include;
  - North
  - South
  - East
  - West

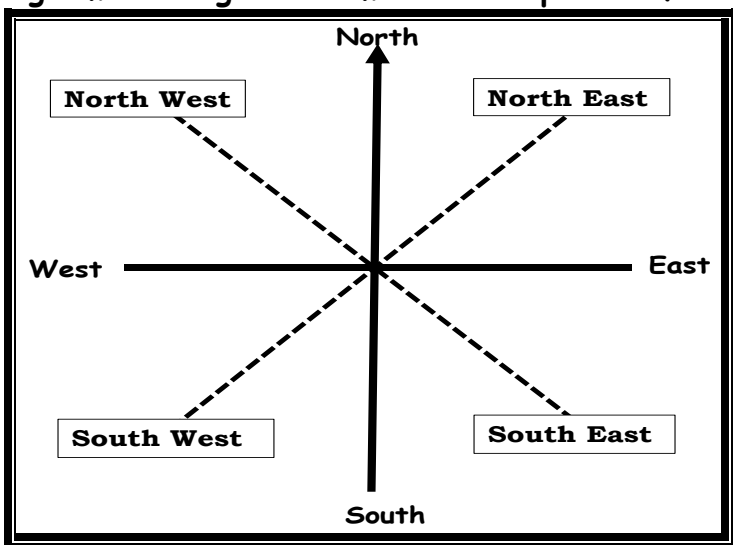

A diagram showing cardinal points of a compass.

Semi- cardinal points of a compass.

- These are points that lie between/ midway the cardinal points.
- They lie at 45^0 from the cardinal points.
- These points are also called the semi-cardinal or ordinal points.
- Secondary points of a compass include;
  - North East
  - South East
  - North West
  - South West

A diagram showing the Semi-cardinal points of a compass.

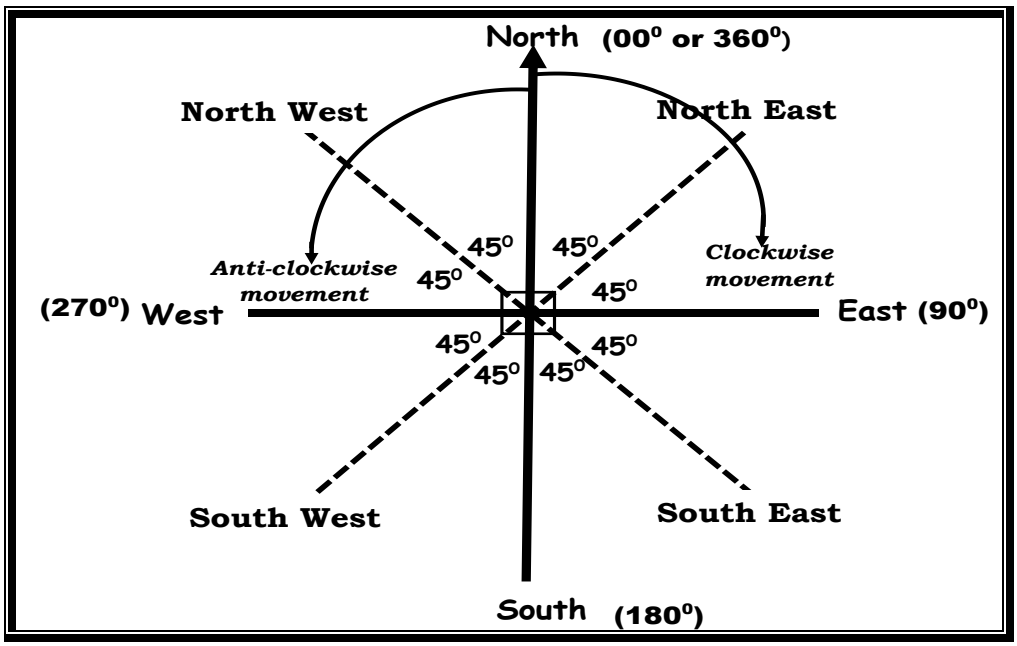

Groups of people who use a compass.

- ❖ Rally drivers
- ❖ Tourists
- ❖ Pilots
- ❖ Mountain climbers
- ❖ Sailors
- ❖ Scouts and girl guides.
- ❖ Soldiers

DEGREES AROUND THE COMPASS

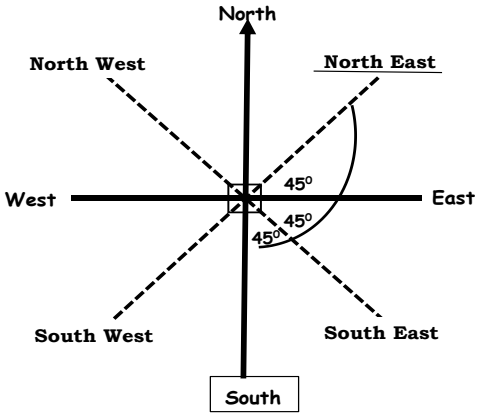

- The face of a compass is circular and is equivalent to 360^0
- Cardinal points form at 90^0 from each other.
- Semi cardinal points form at 45^0 between two nearby cardinal points.
- The starting point is always at North with 0^0 and the ending point is also at North with 360^0.
- Starting from the North moving clockwise,
  - North lies at 00^0 or 360^0
  - East lies at 90^0
  - South lies at 180^0.
  - West lies at 270^0

Example 1.

Okello was facing North East and he turned through an angle of 135^0 clockwise. Which new direction did he face?

Solution:

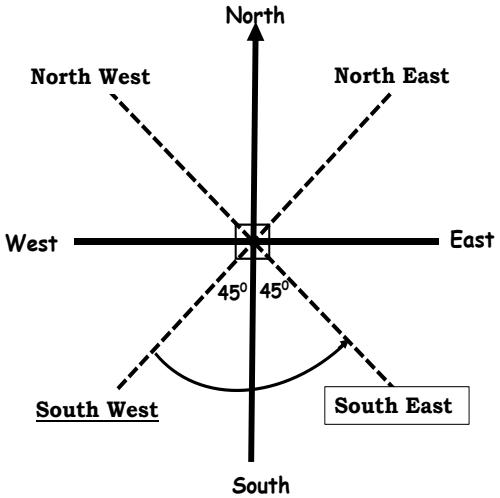

Okello's new direction was South.

Example 2.

Which new direction does Jemimah face if she turns from the South East 90^0 anti-clockwise ?

Solution:

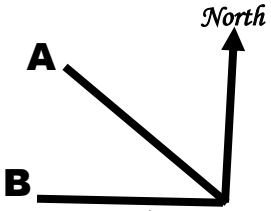

Jemimah faces South East.

8. Mention the four cardinal points of a compass.
9. Mention any two secondary points of a compass.

10. Name the compass directions shown on the diagram below.

(i) A

(ii) B

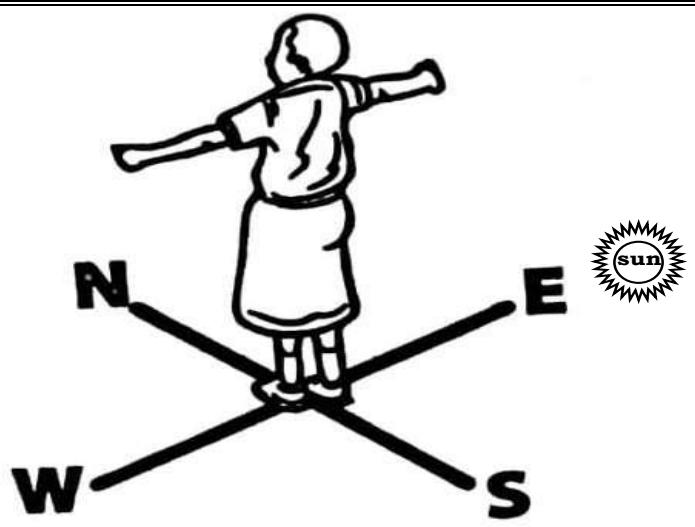

11. Name the compass direction which is directly opposite North West.
12. How is a compass useful to a pilot?
13. Which new direction does Hakim face if he turns anti-clockwise from the North East through an angle of 135^0?
14. Jerusha was facing South direction and she turned clockwise through an angle of 225^0. What was her new direction?
15. Why are tourists from other countries always given the map of Uganda?

USING THE POSITION OF THE SUN TO TELL DIRECTIONS.

- Using the position of the sun is the commonest way of telling directions in our district.
- The sun rises in the East every morning and sets in the West every evening.
- The position of the sun determines the position of shadows of objects.
- In the noon time (midday), the sun is always over head.
- In the morning, shadows of all objects are in the West.
- In the evening, shadows of all objects are cast towards the East.

In the morning:

- In the morning, the sun rises in the East.
- Therefore, if one stretches his/her right hand to point to the sun and stretches the left hand to the point to the opposite direction,
  - The right hand will be pointing to the East,
  - The left hand will be facing to the West,
  - He/she will be facing North,
  - The back will be facing South.

PRACTICAL ACTIVITY

- In the morning, stand under sunshine in your school compound .
- Use the position of the sun and your shadow to determine different directions (ie.North, South, West and East)

Activity: Draw the shadow of the girl in the diagram above.

Note:

- ✓ Shadows of objects are always in the West every morning because the light from the sun in the East is blocked hence forming shadows in the East.
- ✓ Shadows always appear in the East every evening because the light from the sun in the West is blocked hence forming shadows in the East.
- ✓ At midday/ noon time, all shadows of objects are around the objects (middle) because the sun overhead.
- ✓ Shadows are always shortest in the noon time and longest in the evening and morning.

Using the position of the sun to tell directions:

Example 1:

❖ James was going to school in the morning and he saw his shadow in front of him. In which direction was his school?

-The school was in the West.

Example 2:

❖ Jane was going to the market in the evening and saw her shadow on the righthand side. In which direction was:

a) Her home?

-In the South

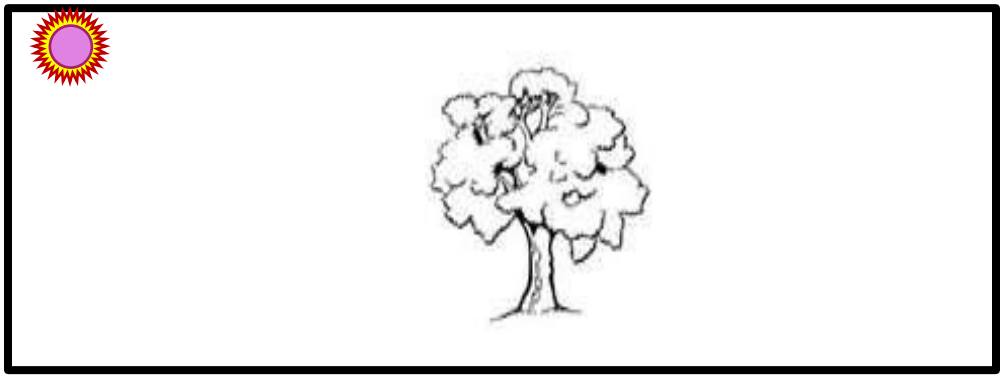

b) The market place?

-In the North.

1. Mention the commonest way of telling directions in your community.
2. Name the direction in which the sun appears every morning.
3. Name the direction in which the sun sets.
4. To which direction are shadows of objects always cast every evening?
5. At what time of the day are shadows always the longest?
6. Why are shadows of objects very short at noon?
7. Andrew was going to the hospital at 9:00am and he saw his shadow in front of him. In which direction was the hospital?
8. In which direction do shadows of objects always appear every morning?
9. Draw the shadow of the tree below.

10. Joan was going to the shop in the evening and she saw her shadow on her right hand. In which direction was;
    (i) the shop?

LOCATING PLACES USING LINES OF LATITUDE AND LINES OF LONGITUDE

- Grid reference system is the method of locating places using lines of latitude and lines of longitude.

(i) LINES OF LATITUDE.

- These are imaginary lines drawn on maps or globe from East to West.
- The general name for all lines of latitude is parallels because they do not meet at any point.
- Latitude is the distance in degrees North or South of the equator.
- Lines of latitude help us to determine climate of places.

Major lines of latitude.

- The Equator (0^0)
- Tropic of Cancer ($23\frac{1}{2}^0$N)
- Tropic of Capricorn ($23\frac{1}{2}^0$S)
- Arctic circle ($66\frac{1}{2}^0$N)
- Antarctic circle ($66\frac{1}{2}^0$S)

The Equator

- The Equator divides the world into two equal parts (hemispheres)
- The Equator is marked 0^0 because it is the starting point for all latitude readings.
- The Equator is the most important line of latitude because it crosses the world at the centre.
- All districts which are crossed by the equator lie in both the Northern and Southern hemisphere.

Note:

- A globe is the model of the earth*
- The Equator crosses lake George and lake Victoria in Uganda.
- A hemisphere is a half part of the world as divided by the equator or prime meridian.*
- The area between the Tropic of cancer and the Tropic of Capricorn is called the Tropical region.

Districts crossed by the Equator in Uganda

- Ibanda
- Kasese
- Mpigi
- Mukono
- Wakiso
- Namayingo
- Mayuge
- Kalungu
- Bukomansimbi
- Buvuma
- Sembabule
- Lyantonde
- Kamwenge

Location of the Equator on the map of Uganda

Location of the Equator at Kayabwe along Kampala-Masaka road

Practical activity;

Use the political map of Uganda and identify all districts that;

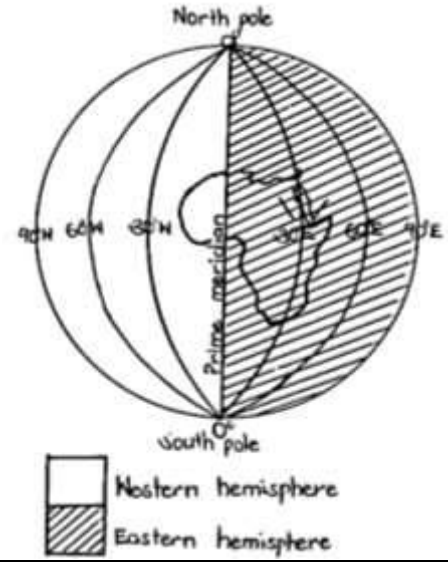

(i) Are crossed by the Equator.
(ii) Completely lie in the Northern hemisphere
(iii) Completely lie in the Southern hemisphere.
(iv) Lie in both the Northern and the Southern hemisphere

(ii) LINES OF LONGITUDE.

- Lines of longitude are imaginary lines drawn on maps and globe from the North pole to the South pole.
- They are also known as meridians.
- Lines of longitude meet at the poles of the earth.

Major lines of longitude.

- The Prime meridian/ Greenwich meridian (0^0)
- The International dateline. (180^0E or W)

The Prime meridian/ Greenwich meridian

- The Prime meridian is also called the Greenwich meridian because it crosses Greenwich town in London.
- The Prime meridian is marked 0^0 because it is the starting point for all longitude readings.
- The Prime meridian divides the world into the Eastern and Western hemisphere.

Note;

- The Prime meridian helps us to tell the international time.
- The International dateline separates one day from another.
  e.g. East of the International dateline can be Friday while West of it is Thursday.

Note: Both lines of latitude and lines of longitude help us to locate places on a map.

Testing Exercise.

1. Give the meaning of Lines of latitude.
2. Name the line of latitude marked 0^0.
3. Why are lines of latitude sometimes referred to as parallels?
4. Apart from the Equator, name any two other major lines of latitude.

LOCATION OF OUR DISTRICT IN UGANDA

- A district is an administrative area at the level of Local Council Five (LC V)
- Uganda is divided into districts mainly to ease administration.
- Most districts in Uganda have their headquarters in the major towns.
- Chairperson LC V is the political head of a district.
- Some districts have municipalities which are divided into divisions.
- Districts in Uganda are divided into counties and sub-counties in order to make administration.
- Districts in Uganda are grouped into regions, and each region is divided into sub-regions according to the customs of the people in that area.

Reasons why Uganda is divided into districts.

- To ease administration.
- To extend social services nearer to people.
- To create more job opportunities.

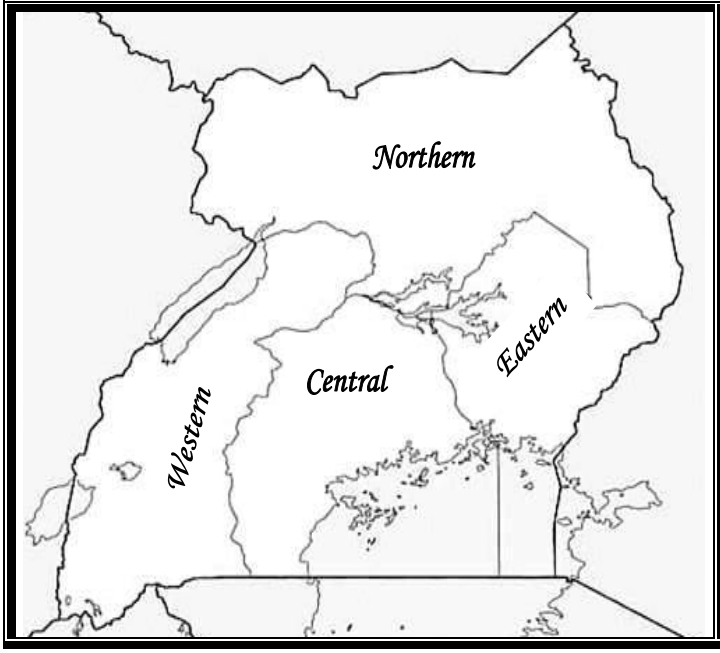

Disadvantages of creating more new districts.

- It leads to separation of communities/ tribes.
- It leads to high administrative costs.
- It makes equal distribution of resources difficult.

REGIONS THAT FORM UGANDA.

- Central region
- Northern region
- Western region
- Eastern region

- ❖ They have fertile soils.
- ❖ They receive plenty of rainfall.

Problems facing people living in Island districts.

- ❖ Poor road transport.

- Attacks from aquatic animals eg.crocodiles.
- Lack of hydro electricity
- Floods
- Poor social service delivery.
  - Note: -There is no hydroelectricity in Kalangala and because it is very expensive to fix electric poles in water of lake Victoria to these districts.

Possible solutions to the problems facing Island districts of Uganda.

- By using other sources of energy eg. solar energy
- By employing more social service providers.
- By providing better means of water transport.
- By building better social service centres in island districts.
- By paying attractive salaries to people who provide social services in island districts.

- Kampala was originally built on seven hills but its size has been increasing and expanding to more other hills.
- Kampala got its name from the animal called "Impala" which were dominant on the hills that make up Kampala.
- For easy administration, Kampala is divided into urban councils while the rural districts are divided into counties.
- Kampala is headed by the Lord mayor while each of the other districts are headed by Chairperson LC V.
- Kampala is run by the Kampala Capital City Authority (KCCA) which is headed by the Executive director.
- The capital city of Uganda was transferred from Entebbe to Kampala in 1962 because Kampala had more land for expansion.
- The current Lord mayor is Erias Lukwago.

Divisions that make up Kampala

PREFACE

Excel Standard Social Studies, Pupils' Book Four has been developed basing on the revised Primary Four Social Studies Syllabus as prescribed by the new curriculum of the National Curriculum Development Center (NCDC). The book contains accurate, relevant and current information covering all topics in all terms of the year in their order. It is intended to guide both teachers and learners.

The Pupil's book cares for the interests of the learners in terms of simple and concise language used, simplified content to cater for all learners with different abilities and clear illustrations to make learning enjoyable through observation. Key words for each topic have also been included in order to enrich the learner's vocabulary and mastery of concepts.

The topics have well organised, relevant, and easy to understand notes and facts. It is written in a simple language and is well aided with maps and illustrations/diagrams where necessary to ease understanding.

The book is remarkably precise but detailed in content with no fact left hanging. It has been mainly written for Primary Four in a language that is suitable for both rural and urban Pupils. The book can therefore be used with minimum teacher guidance. However, the content contained in this book is mostly developed around Kampala district, and this requires teachers outside Kampala to enrich it and include important features/ places in other districts

The book has inbuilt and continuous assessment activities at the end of topic. These questions are to help the learners to test their understanding of the concepts covered and are to enable the teacher to track progress as coverage goes on. This also makes the book convenient for individual and class learning by the pupils.

The content of the book has been enriched to enable learners get solutions to the three main levels of assessment at primary level that is to say: Knowledge, Comprehension and Application.

The book is intended to provide learners with knowledge, skills and the desired attitudes and values of Social Studies and the Environment that are important to prepare learners for final assessment of the primary level.

The book is written and developed by experienced teachers of Social Studies and Religious Education and we welcome all comments on the publication with an open mind for the improvement in the teaching and learning of Social Studies. THE LEGEND OF THE FIRST MUGANDA.

Location of Buganda in Uganda

Kintu and his cow

Kintu and Nambi to earth.

This legend explains the origin of the people of Buganda.
Long ago, a great man known as Kintu traveled with his prize cow from northern Africa to the land called Uganda. There he lived for many years on the milk his cow gave him. He built a grass hut and lived in peace.

One day the sons and daughter of Gulu, King of the Heavens, came to Earth. When Nambi, Gulu's daughter, met Kintu, she fell instantly in love with him. "Kintu is kind and generous," she told her brothers. "I wish to marry him. He is the finest man I've known." " "You do not even know if he is the great Kintu," her brothers said. They were suspicious of the man and feared he had bewitched their sister. "He may be a magician or a sorcerer. He may be an animal in disguise," they said.
"But he has built himself a house," Nambi said. "Animals do not live as Kintu lives. " Nambi returned to the sky to ask her father's permission to marry Kintu. Gulu listened to Nambi's pleas, but Nambi's brothers shook their heads. "You must not let her marry this creature," the elder brother said to his father. "We do not know if he is Kintu at all. He does not eat ordinary food. " "He drinks only milk from a cow," the second brother said.

"I must think over the matter," Gulu told his children.
Meanwhile, the brothers secretly returned to Earth and carried away Kintu's cow. They thought that if Kintu lost his cow, he would die of starvation.

When Kintu saw his cow was gone, he knew what he must do. He began to gather leaves and fruits of the earth. These he ate. He grew stronger still.
When Nambi spied Kintu's cow idling in the fields with her father's herd, she was alarmed. "My beloved will starve," she cried. She returned to Earth to see what had happened to Kintu.

When she found him eating berries, she sat down beside him.
"Kintu," she said softly, "please come back with me to the sky.

Your cow is there. We will steal it and return to Earth together. I love you, Kintu. I wish you every happiness. " Kintu was so moved by Nambi's generosity and gentleness that he agreed to travel with her to the sky.
When they arrived, he stared in disbelief. People were living in beautiful huts of golden grass. Herds of cattle roamed the blue-green fields. Goats and sheep and chickens ran through groves of plantain trees. Kintu had never seen such bounty.

"It is wonderful here," he said. "I will stay here with you, Nambi. " They sat down together beside her house, talking of their future together.
Nambi's brothers saw this and ran to their father. "Your daughter has brought this creature with her to our heaven. " "I will test this being," Gulu said. "I will find out if he is truly the great Kintu. " He snapped his fingers and ordered his servants to prepare a meal large enough for hundreds. Then Gulu ordered Kintu to come to his palace.

Kintu stood solemnly before the king.
"I command you to eat every bit of this meal," Gulu said. "If you cannot, I will know you are an impostor, and you shall not marry my daughter. " Kintu sat down alone before the feast. He ate and drank as much as he could. Before long he was full, though dozens of baskets remained. He despaired, but suddenly a great hole opened in the floor of the palace. Kintu quickly tipped all of the food into the hole, and the hole closed.

"Come take away the baskets," Kintu called. When the servants and the brothers saw the baskets were all empty, they searched everywhere, but they could find no food.

Still Gulu was not satisfied. He handed Kintu a copper axe. "I need kindling for my fire. Go and cut some kindling from rocks.

Plain firewood is no use to me. " Kintu went outside, wondering what to do. "If I strike rock with this axe, it will break," he thought. Bending down to look closely at the rocks, he saw tiny cracks running through each one. With his fingers, he pried off pieces of rock and took them to Gulu.

Still the King of Heaven was not satisfied. "Go and fill this pot with dew," Gulu ordered.

Kintu set out for the open grassland. That night, he sat upon the dry land, wondering how he would collect enough dew to satisfy the King of Heaven. At dawn he woke from a fitful sleep. He could not believe his eyes. Everywhere he looked the blades of grass glittered with dew. And more astonishing still, the water pot was full to its brim. He took the pot to Gulu.
"Father," Nambi said, "you must see now that the man I love is Kintu. Allow me to marry him. " "One more test," Gulu said. "Kintu must choose his cow from among the royal herd. If he can find his own cow, I will know he is Kintu and I will bless your marriage. " Gulu's herd was huge. Kintu stared out at it, wondering what to do, when a bee settled on his shoulder.

" Take the cow upon whose back I settle," the bee buzzed in Kintu's ear.
The next morning Kintu went to the royal fields to examine the vast herd. He saw the bee hovering nearby. Kintu pretended to search for his own cow, but all the while he kept careful watch on the bee. At last the bee flew straight to one of the larger creatures and settled upon her horn.
" That is my cow," Kintu called out. He touched his stick upon the cow's hide, and as he did, the bee flew to a young heifer. "And there," Kintu cried, "that is one of her calves. " Gulu was amazed. "You are truly Kintu the Great," he said. "And you will marry my daughter, Nambi. "
So Kintu and Nambi married. Gulu gave them a sheep, a goat, a chicken, a plantain tree and seeds for every edible plant. "Hurry now to Earth," Gulu commanded. "You must leave before your brother Walumbe returns. He will want to travel with you to Earth, and if he sees you, he must go along with you. " Kintu and Nambi began their journey, but halfway home, Nambi said, "Dear Kintu, I have forgotten grain for the chicken. I must return to the sky. I will hurry. " Off she ran.
As Nambi was collecting grain from the fields of the sky, Gulu found her. "I told you not to return," he scolded.

Ashamed, Nambi turned to leave. As she was descending, Walumbe saw her. "I am coming with you," he told his sister.
And so together they traveled to Earth. There Nambi planted her garden with seeds and plantain trees. She and Kintu lived together happily, and she gave birth to many children.

For years Walumbe did not trouble them. But Walumbe is Death, After some time he took/killed one child, and then another. Walumbe started eating Nambi's children and Kayikuzi was sent from heaven to arrest Walumbe and take him back to heaven. But Walumbe ran and hid in a hole at Tanda along Kampala-Mityana road.

And since then, no matter how the people try to avoid Walumbe, he takes people away. Still, the family grew and prospered, and their descendants live to this day. The people say Walumbe did not take the great Kintu.

He left him on Earth to spread his goodness forever.

THE LEGEND OF THE BACHWEZI AND THE BATEMBUZI.

Once upon a time, so it is said, two kingdoms existed; one on the earth's surface and another beneath the earth(underworld). The earthly kingdom was inhabited by a tribe called 'Batembuzi' which means the first inhabitants and was under the rule of King Isaza. The underground world kingdom was occupied by Bachwezi who were ruled by Nyamiyonga. The Bachwezi were believed to possess supernatural powers and could appear and disappear at will.

One day, so it is said, the Underworld king proposed a blood brotherhood with the Earthly counterpart Isaza like in most African cultures by exchanging coffee beans soaked in one another's blood which Isaza refused and passed the seed to his servant.
This disrespectful act by Isaza disgraced the good willed Nyamiyonga who plotted to have his dis graceful counterpart pay for his ill-willed action. The legend has it that Nyamiyonga sent his most gorgeous and charmingly beautiful daughter known as Nyamata as a bride to Isaza who new less about this move. On seeing the conspicuous Nyamata, Isaza could not escape her splendid beauty and fell for her.

This however, surpassed Nyamiyonga's expectations of attracting Isaza to his palace as a son in law since Isaza refused to accompany his wife to Pay a visit to the wife's parents after having a son with her.
Fortunate enough for Nyamiyonga, her daughter had collected enough information about Isaza's key interest which was found out to be cows. Nyamiyonga quickly made another trap for Isaza by sending him very beautiful cows which he later found in his kraal one early morning.

After a good period of time, so it is said, these cows were reported to have left the herd which prompted the 'ignorant' Isaza to set out for them. He left his gate keeper Bukuku in charge of his palace, so the legend is told, for he wasn't sure when he would return. Legend has it that after a long search, Isaza finally set eyes on the cows but from a far distance. He followed to stop them but it is said they went into the lake and they later sunk as he followed suit. Not long enough, so it is said, Isaza discovered the cows and himself were in Nyamiyonga's kingdom. He was given a warm welcome of a typical African guest with plenty of drinks and eats. After introductions, Isaza was accommodated and assured of safety and departure at his own will.

Tradition has it that Isaza spent a few days and was later given his wife and son with the cows to start his journey back to his kingdom. Along the way, so it is said, Isaza lost all he had simultaneously with the family first and later the cows, a thing he couldn't bear. Attempts to go home were futile and so was going back to his host king since all the ways were blocked and he was only left with a standing space. It is upon this untimely incident, that Isaza began his never ending effort to find the way through back to Earth by stubbing his spear into the roof like ground above his head causing earthquakes that we always feel and hear, according to the legend.
Meanwhile as the people up waited for his return in vain, the gate keeper-Bukuku assumed power and took over the throne pronouncing himself the new king. Bukuku's era was full of mischief and fear of uncertainty which prompted him to consult a local prophet about his fate. It is said that news from the prophet were not worth hearing for the new king as it was said he would be killed by his own grandson.

In an attempt to avoid the unfortunate foretold fate, Bukuku was advised never to allow his only daughter Nyinamwiru to get married. He decided to lock her daughter up in one of the palace rooms and put a guard never to allow her meet any boy/man. As no power apart from God's has been known to challenge nature, Nyinamwiru's outstanding beauty and age, attracted one Isimbwa the son to Isaza and Nyamata who like other Bachwezi had super natural powers that enabled him to sneak into the palace unnoticed and impregnated Nyinamwiru who later gave birth to a baby boy.
Upon hearing the news of the birth of a grandson, Bukuku was greatly upset by his daughter and ordered the guards to cut off one of her breasts and pluck out one eye in order to distort her beauty and avert her admirers.

Like Moses of the bible, the fate of the young boy lied in the hands of those ordered to eliminate him. Lucky enough for him, he was dumped in a swamp in the neighborhood where he was later picked by a local potter who named him Ndahura.

Learning about the news of her son in the hands of a poor potter, Nyinamwiru sent a message to the potter to make a beautiful craft and present it as a present to the king which would in turn earn him an appreciation of a lactating cow which would help to provide milk to raise the child.

It was not long that Nyinamwiru's plan worked as anticipated and the potter was given the cow. The legend has it that the cut breast of Nyinamwiru was thrown in the present day cave area where it continued to leak milk and the potter often took the boy at regular intervals for breast feeding.
Days became month and month became years and the fateful boy Ndahura reached his youthful stage and was prominent for his courage that at one time he challenged the King's servants at the water point when he made his adopter's cows drink before those of the king, an act that was not only unheard of but also unbearable.

When the king received this embarrassing news, he vowed to face and eliminate that disrespectful son of a potter whom he hardly knew that he was his grandson. It was not long enough before the day break and the 'fire- spitting' old king took his cows himself to face the young man at the water point.
As the king brought forward his cows, the stubborn Ndahura gave a challenge which prompted the King to unleash his anger impatiently by throwing his spear at the young man who dodged it. Like the Biblical story of David Vs Goliath, Ndahura never missed but only Struck the king's heart and killed him with his own spear as the prophecy had been told.

Ndahula quickly pronounced himself king and started on the expansion of the kingdom which was later to be known as the Bunyoro-Kitara empire that spanned on the area between the Kagera and the Nile rivers. He was known as the first Chwezi ruler and founder of this great empire initiating the Chwezi dynasty that existed up to around the 15th century.

THE LEGEND OF RUHANGA AND HIS BROTHER.

This legend explains the origin of the people of Ankole.
In the beginning, Ruhanga, the creator lived in space with his brother Nkya. Nkya who was younger and restless complained he was bored with everything being so normal and mundane. Ruhanga created heaven and earth for his brother. He threw a stone in the air and it became the sun. Nkya was happy with this but soon started to complain again about the constant sun and no shade. Ruhanga moved the sun to the West and covered it with a cloud. He then threw another stone in the air and created the moon. He ordered Nkya to sleep and created the cock to crow to wake Nkya up when night had passed. He also created grasses and trees for more shade. He then ordered Nkya to stay on Earth while he returned to attend to matters in Heaven.

In heaven Ruhanga realized his hands were dirty and washed his hands which proceeded to pour down to Earth as rain. Nkya got drenched and complained to Ruhanga. He told Nkya to break off branches cut the grass and make shelter but Nkya had no tools. Ruhanga got a rock and threw it to the ground and it broke to make a knife, an axe and a hammer. Nkya went ahead to make a hut.

Beloved Cow Ruhanga gave to Nkya to kill his boredom on earth

He soon got bored again and demanded for something to look at. Ruhanga then created flowers, shrubs, goats and sheep. He also created cattle which pleased Nkya immensely. He made a bowl and showed Nkya how to milk the cows. He also created a creeper that provided more food for Nkya. This time Nkya has so many things to occupy him in the new world and he was impressed. He enjoyed his time on earth but tending to everything was a lot of work. Ruhanga gave him a son who Nkya called Kantu.

In time the work was still a bit hectic for Nkya and Kantu, so Ruhanga gave him 3 other sons. There was confusion because all of them were called Kantu. So Ruhanga devised means to test Nkya's sons and name them according to how they performed. For the first test, Nkya hid three items at a junction on a path far from home. He put a basket of sweet potatoes, strips of ox hide and the head of the ox. He then sent his sons on the same path.

On reaching the junction, the eldest son saw the basket of potatoes and immediately bullied his brothers and ate the food alone. The second born saw the stripes of hide and thought they would be important for tying the cows when milking. The youngest one didn't want to be left out so he carried the ox-head back home. When Nkya saw them return he gathered them and asked them what had happened. He was so angry at the first eldest son for eating all the food and not sharing with his brothers. He made arrangements for the second test.

The elder brother rushed for the sweet potatoes and refused to share with his brothers

At night, he gave them pots of milk and ordered them to carry them through the night and not to spill any of it. The youngest boy fell asleep first and spilled all his milk. He woke up to the horror of the situation and pleaded with his brothers to help him. They each contributed a bit of their milk and the young boy filled his pot again. This time he stayed awake since he had rested enough and was alert.

Towards the morning, the older brother couldn't hold back the sleep and dozed off and spilled most of his milk. He pleaded with his brothers to help him too but since they had already shared with the younger brother, it was not enough to fill a pot and his brothers refused to give him more milk. Their father awoke and went to check on the boys.

A girl carrying a traditional milk pot, similar to those the boys were given for their test

He was so pleased with the youngest brother that he had managed to stay awake all night and present to him his pot of milk. The other brothers were filled with jealousy and told their father that he had spilled his milk first and they had shared some of theirs to help him refill his pot. Nkya was impressed how the youngest son had managed to convince his brothers to share the milk despite the repercussions. He recalled the way the young boy had carried back the heavy ox-head from their earlier journey, despite not knowing what he would use it for. He immediately named him Kakama and gave him authority to rule over his brothers and everything on earth.

For the second born, he recalled the love for cattle the boy had. He's the one who had carried back the ox-hide stripes so he could tie the cow's legs while he was milking. Nkya named him Kahima, the cattle herder and gave him authority over all the cattle. He was least pleased by the eldest son. First, he had shown his greed by eating all the sweet potatoes, then had also spilled all his milk and had nothing to present to his father in the morning. He called him Kairu and gave him the hardest responsibility of cultivating the land to provide food for his brothers and their descendants.

Till recent history this is how people of this region lived. The descendants of Kakama (Omukama) were royals who ruled over the people and inherited kingship from their great grandfather the smart and clever younger brother. The Bahima were cattle herders by lifestyle and descendants up-to date still have hundreds of herds of cattle which they pride in and treasure. The Bairu were agriculturalists and peasants who did all the hard labour of providing for the kingdoms. They traded alot of food for little pieces of meat and pots of milk provided by the Bahima.

Today this system in this region is irrelevant but, in some places, deep in these regions people still refer to this system to show their authority over others.

THE LEGEND OF THE SPEAR AND THE BEAD.

Once upon a time there was an old man who lived with his clan in a beautiful, fertile land, teeming with animals and birds in northern Uganda. This old man was called Olum. The land was gifted indeed, with a beautiful river, the Nile running through it, its blue waters bringing life to the land, sustaining the old man's clan, their plants and livestock. For a while the man, his family and his two teenage sons, Labongo and Gipir lived in peace in this paradise they had discovered when they moved south from the land called Bahr-el Ghazel. Days turned to weeks, weeks to months and months to years. Olum's health began to deteriorate. He called his elder son Labongo to speak to him.

He told them how he didn't have much time left. He turned to Labongo and gave him a special spear. The spear was the one that symbolised leadership in the clan and had been passed down from generation to generation. It was now Labongo's turn to lead and protect the clan. The spear was perfectly decorated with carvings. Labongo had always waited for this moment. It was finally his turn to rule and take over the clan. He promised his father never to let him down.

Labongo's ancestral Spear

A few days later Olum died and sadly the tribe had to move on without him. Labongo took over headship. Luckily there were no major wars and calamities befalling them. The boys grew into men, took on wives and had children. The fertile land always provided for them plenty of food and the Nile never dried up. There was plenty for man and livestock.

One late afternoon while Labongo was out hunting, an elephant strayed away from its herd and found its way to their maize garden. The women and children ran to their huts in fear. Gipir who was resting inside one of the huts awoke and ran out to see what was wrong. He saw the elephant destroying their precious crops. Without another thought, he ran to the hut where they kept their spears, grabbed one and threw it at the elephant. The elephant was injured and it ran away with the spear stuck into its side. Gipir had saved the day. Everyone came out praising him of his braveness.

An elephant that came to destroy the crops.

Gipir spearing the elephant.

Labongo came back to find the homesteads buzzing with excitement about the events that had happened. They narrated to him the story of how Gipir single handedly went against the massive elephant and managed to chase it away. He was stabbed with jealousy because it was he who was tasked with protecting the clan. He went to the hut where the spears were kept and Alas! He discovered his precious spear was missing. At that time of the confusion, Gipir had grabbed the royal spear and the elephant had run away with it still stuck to its side!

Labongo called upon his brother. He told him how that spear meant everything to the clan and he expected to hand it down to his son, just like their father had done to him. He accused his brother of jealousy and told him he must bring back the spear. Gipir couldn't believe what he was hearing. How was he expected to trail and injured elephant and recover the spear? The forest south of where they lived was known to harbour big herds of elephants, giraffes, buffaloes and predators like lions, leopards. But Labongo was adamant. He wanted his spear. Gipir had no alternative but to bid his wife and kids a tearful goodbye. He didn't think he would make it back. But his brother was demanding for the spear and he had to leave.

So Gipir went into the forest. He searched for days and days sleeping under the sky and encountering many wild animals. He remained brave at first but his mission was almost impossible. Soon weeks were passing by, finally months. Gipir wasn't eating enough, wasn't sleeping well and he lived in constant fear for his life. His hands and legs were filled with wounds each passing day. With no one to talk to he was going mad. He cursed his brother, and cried for his children he would never see grow. He had reached to limit and couldn't push himself anymore. Wounded, diseased and starving he gave up- and prayed his ancestors would welcome him to the next life.

One day passed and Gipir wished a lion or a leopard, or even a hyena would come along and take him out of his misery. An old medicine woman who gathered her herbs in this particular part of the forest found him and he was saved! Gipir thought he saw his grandmother who had passed come to his rescue. The old lady realised he was desperate and in need for help. He could hardly talk or walk. She took him back to her small hut near the edge of the forest. She cared for him and nursed him. She treated his wounds, gave him plenty of fluids to rehydrate him and finally he was able to talk.

He told the lady of his story and she sympathised with him. She told him she would provide food and shelter for him while he went in search for his spear. Soon he was back on his feet and able to hunt and provide meat for them. Soon years came to pass. They lived together with the old lady. They would go into the forest together, with her searching for a special herb and him searching for the spear while the both gathered and hunted what they would feed on. Days went on and more years came by.

One day while they were deep in the forest, they discovered a pile of huge skeletons. They moved closer to investigate what exactly had happened. The old woman recognized the pile as elephant bones. Gipir moved in closer to identify what exactly happened to this elephant. And there it was! The Royal Spear! He had finally found it! Gipir couldn't believe his eyes. It seemed like the elephant he had speared had finally succumbed to its wounds and died. He was so happy he broke into dance. He had finally achieved his mission.

The old woman was glad he had finally found his spear, but she was sad to see him leave. She had got used to having him around. To show her appreciation, she gave him a number of special beads. This was something Gipir had never seen before. They had beautiful colors and they shone under the sun. He was so appreciative for the beads because they also reminded him of his times of trouble and how he survived. He gratefully thanked the woman and left her place the next morning.

The Beads Gipir got from an old woman

Gipir moved through the jungle for weeks until he made his way home. The homestead dwellers saw an unknown man and thought he was one of the nomads who was looking for some water. Until he came closer and they recognized him! A buzz set upon the village. Gipir had returned! Everyone excited. Gipir came forth and presented the spear to Labongo. He was glad he was alive. Festivities went on for days. The tribe was united.

Gipir loved the beads the old woman had given him. They symbolised his endurance and kindness of humanity. He liked stringing them into beautiful patterns. One day while he was stringing the beads, the children came to watch what he was doing. Labongo's last born and favorite daughter was among them and started playing with one bead. She put it into her mouth and accidentally swallowed it. One of the other children saw her doing this and called out to Gipir, told him that she had swallowed one of his beads.
Gipir, still filled with bitterness about what his brother had done, saw his chance for revenge. He went to Labongo and told him what had happened. He demanded for his precious bead. Labongo told him that the bead would soon pass and he would get it. But Gipir said he needed his bead at that moment exactly and Labongo had to find a way of getting it from his daughter's stomach. To cut up his 2 year old daughter and retrieve the bead!

Labongo pleaded for his brother to reconsider for hours but Gipir insisted that he needed his bead at that right moment, reminding him of how he made him suffer while in the forest looking for the spear. Labong had nothing to do but to give up his daughter to be cut up and they retrieve Gipir's bead. It was finally retrieved but the clan was never the same again. Labongo couldn't stand living with his brother and the grief of losing his precious daughter was too much. They decided to part ways. They buried an axe at a place presently called Wang-Lei in Pakwach on the banks of the Nile. Gipir and his family took the area West of the Nile and became the Alur in Northern Uganda, parts of Sudan and Eastern Democratic Republic of Congo. Labongo and his family went to the area East of the Nile moving south wards and then Eastwards into Kenya. Gipir and Labongo were the ancestral fathers of all Luo speakers and this legend explains why the Acholi, Jopadhola, Alur and the Jaluo have similar wording for different things and are related by their ancestry to Gipir and Labongo.

There is common belief among the Bamasaba that their founding ancestors, Mundu and his wife Sera, originated from a cave on top of Mount Masaba (Elgon) about 500 years ago. Mundu and Sera had two sons; Kundu and Masaba. Kundu was a herdsman while Masaba was a hunter. Kundu is said to have left Mount Elgon in search for larger expanses on which to graze his cattle, and it is further said that he is the one who would later be called Kintu, the first king of the Baganda.

Masaba, who decided to stay behind with the father on the mountain, had three sons; Mwambu, Wanale and Mubuuya. Mwambu, the eldest son, is said to result into the clans of the northern part of Bugisu, Wanale was the forefather of clans of central Bugisu and Mubuuya was the forefather of clans of the southern parts.

Mwambu, while herding his father's cattle, was attacked by the Masaai who raided the area. He pursued the raiders and fought them and they surrendered all their cattle to him. They gave him a bull, known in Masaai language as Ingisu as a token of their respect for his bravery. PREFACE

Excel Standard Social Studies, Pupils' Book Five has been developed basing on the revised Primary Five Social Studies Syllabus as prescribed by the new curriculum of the National Curriculum Development Center (NCDC). The book contains accurate, relevant and current information covering all topics in all terms of the year in their order. It is intended to guide both teachers and learners.

The pupil's book cares for the interests of the learners in terms of simple and concise language used, simplified content to cater for all learners with different abilities and clear illustrations to make learning enjoyable through observation. Key words for each topic have also been included in order to enrich the learner's vocabulary and mastery of concepts.

The topics have well organised, relevant, and easy to understand notes and facts. It is written in a simple language and is well aided with maps and illustrations/diagrams where necessary to ease understanding.

The book is remarkably precise but detailed in content with no fact left hanging. It has been mainly written for Primary Five in a language that is suitable for both rural and urban Pupils. The book can therefore be used with minimum teacher guidance.

The book has inbuilt and continuous assessment activities at the end of topic. These questions are to help the learners to test their understanding of the concepts covered and are to enable the teacher to track progress as coverage goes on. This also makes the book convenient for individual and class learning by the pupils.

The content of the book has been enriched to enable learners get solutions to the three main levels of assessment at primary level that is to say: Knowledge, Comprehension and Application.

The book is intended to provide learners with knowledge, skills and the desired attitudes and values of Social Studies and the Environment that are important to prepare learners for final assessment of the primary level.

The book is written and developed by experienced teachers of Social Studies and Religious Education and we welcome all comments on the publication with an open mind for the improvement in the teaching and learning of Social Studies. TOPIC 1: LOCATION OF UGANDA ON THE MAP OF EAST AFRICA.

DISTRICTS THAT FORM UGANDA.

- A district is an administrative area at the level of Local Council Five (LC V)
- Uganda is divided into districts mainly to ease administration.
- Chairperson LC V is the political head of a district.
- Districts in Uganda are grouped into regions, and each region is divided into sub-regions according to the customs of the people in that area.

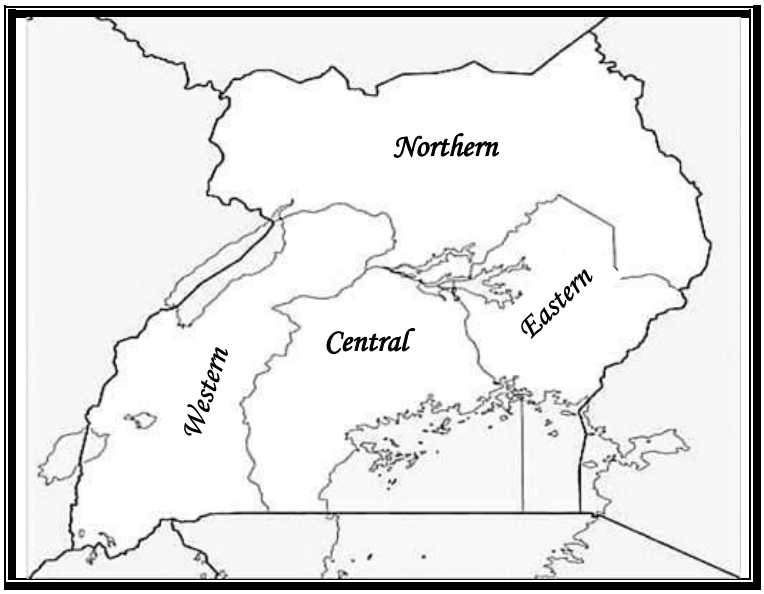

Regions that form Uganda.

- Central region.
- Northern region
- Western region
- Eastern region

Sub-regions found in each region of Uganda.

Region of Uganda	Sub-region	Districts
Central region	Buganda sub-region	-Kampala -Mpigi -Masaka -Mityana -Luwero -Kalangala -Nakasongola -Mubende -Rakai -Wakiso -Sembabule etc.
Northern region	Acholi sub-region	-Gulu -Kitgum -Agago -Pader
	Karamoja sub-region	-Kotido -Abim -Moroto -Kaabong -Nakapiripirit etc
	Lango sub-region	-Lira -Apac -Oyam -Dokolo etc
	West Nile sub-region	-Arua -Nebbi -Zombo -Yumbe -Adjumani -Koboko

	Sebei sub-region	-Kapchorwa -Bukwo -Kween
	Bukedi sub-region	-Pallisa -Kibuku -Budaka -Tororo -Busia

REGIONS THAT MAKE UP UGANDA.

Reasons why Uganda is divided into districts.

- To ease administration.
- To extend social services nearer to people.
- To create more job opportunities to people.

Disadvantages of creating more new districts.

- It leads to separation of communities/ tribes.
- It leads to high administrative costs.
- It makes equal distribution of resources difficult.

HIGHLAND DISTRICTS

- These are districts which are located in areas of high altitude.
- Such districts usually have many hills and mountains.
- Altitude is the height above the sea level.

Examples of highland districts.

- Mbale
- Kapchorwa
- Kabale
- Kisoro
- Bundibugyo
- Kasese
- Moroto
- Rukungiri

Economic activities that are commonly carried out in highland districts.

- Tourism
- Crop growing
- Mining

Problems faced by people living in highland districts.

- Landslides
- Severe soil erosion
- Poor transport network
- Difficulty in agricultural mechanisation.

Possible solutions to the problems facing people living in highland districts.

- By rearing donkeys to use them as means of transport.
- By constructing winding roads.
- By practising afforestation and reafforestation to control landslides.
- By terracing, contour ploughing and strip cropping to reduce soil erosion.

Note:

- ✓ Heavy rainfall is the major cause of landslides in highland areas.
- ✓ Landslides can be controlled in highland areas by planting more trees.

- ✓ Ground transport is very poor in highland areas because it is very difficult and expensive to construct roads in highland areas.
- ✓ Agricultural mechanisation is so poor in highland areas because the steep slopes make the use of tractors difficult.
- ✓ Road transport can be improved in highland areas by constructing winding roads.
- ✓ People living in Kapchorwa district rear donkeys mainly to use them as means of transport.

ISLAND DISTRICTS.

- An island is an area of land which is completely surrounded by a water body.
- The island districts in Uganda are found in Lake Victoria.

Examples of Islands districts.

- Kalangala
- Buvuma

Economic activities that are commonly carried out in Island districts.

- Fishing.
- Crop cultivation (oil palm growing, maize, banana, potatoes)
- Lumbering
- Trading.
- Tourism due to presence of Ssese forest, Ngamba island which is famous for Chimpanzees

Benefits enyoyed by Island districts.

- They get easy access to water.
- They have fertile soils.
- They receive plenty of rainfall.

Problems facing people living in Island districts.

- Poor road transport.
- Attacks from aquatic animals eg.crocodiles.
- Lack of hydro electricity
- Floods
- Poor social service delivery.
  - Note: -There is no hydro electricity in Kalangala and because it is very expensive to fix electric poles in water of lake Victoria to these districts.*

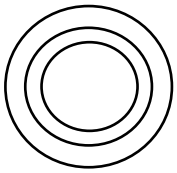

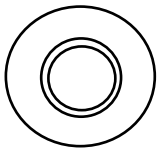

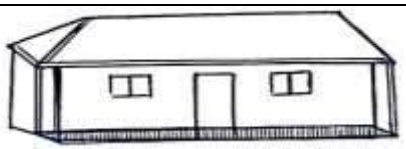

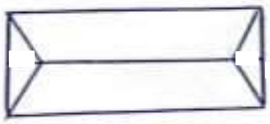

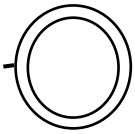

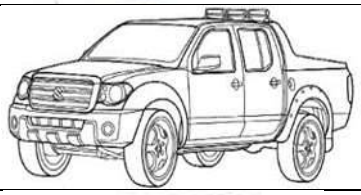

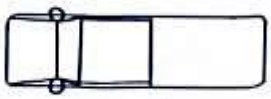

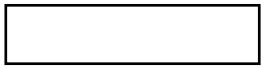

Possible solutions to the problems facing Island districts of Uganda.

- By using other sources of energy eg. solar energy
- By employing more social service providers.
- By providing better means of water transport.
- By building better social service centres in island districts.
- By paying attractive salaries to people who provide social services in island districts.

MAPS AND PICTURES.

- A map is a drawing/ representation of an object as seen from above.
- Maps show how objects look like when viewed directly from above.
- We use symbols to help us understand and interpret a map of a detailed area.
- The boundary of a map determines the size and shape of the map.
- A picture is a representation of an object as seen from above.
- All features on a picture can be clearly seen as real objects.
- Pictures are more detailed than maps.

a tree
a plate
a pot
a house
a chair
a cup
a hut
a car
a table

Similarity between maps and pictures.

- Both are representations of objects.

Types of maps.

(i) Political maps. These maps show boundaries of villages, counties, districts and countries.

(ii) Topographic maps. These maps show physical features/ landforms of a given area.eg.mountains etc.

(iii) Flow-line maps. These show movement of people, goods, animals etc.

(iv) Thematic maps. These show various social and economic themes eg. trade, energy.

Importance of maps.

- They are used for locating places.
- They help travelers to plan for routes to take while on their journeys.
- They help people to know the relief, climate and vegetation of different areas.

ELEMENTS OF A MAP.

- A compass direction
- A scale
- A title/heading
- A frame
- A key

Importance of different elements of a good map.

Element	Importance
❖ A compass direction	❖ It helps to show the direction of places on a map. -A map reader may fail to know the direction of places shown on the map if he/she reads a map without a compass direction.
❖ A title/ heading	❖ It helps one to know what the map is all about. -One who reads a map without a title may fail to know what the map is all about.
❖ A key	❖ It helps a map reader to interpret symbols used on a map. -A key gives detailed information about the map. -A map reader may fail to interpret/ know the meaning of symbols used on a map if he/she reads a map without a key.
❖ A scale	❖ It helps a map reader to calculate the actual ground distance on a map. -A map reader may fail to calculate the actual ground distance between places on the map if he/she reads a map without a scale.

MAP SYMBOLS.

- These are features that are used to represent real objects on a map.

Why symbols are used on maps.

- To avoid congestion on the map.
- To make map reading easy.
- To ensure neatness of a map.

Common symbols used on maps.

A rift valley	waterfall	A dam	A canal	A swamp

A quarry	A hill	airport	contours	a factory

Railway line	A port	hospital	mountain peak	permanent lake

A COMPASS DIRECTION

- A compass is an instrument used to find direction of places.
- A drawn compass is called a compass rose.

People who use a compass.

- Rally drivers
- Tourists
- Pilots
- Mountain climbers
- Sailors
- Scouts and girl guides.
- Soldiers.

A compass direction.

- A compass direction is a symbol used on a map to show the direction of places.
- The compass points are divided into the cardinal points,semi-cardinal points (secondary points) and tertiary points.
- Cardinal points are the four major points of a compass.

These include;

- North
- South
- West
- East

- Secondary points are the directions that lie midway of cardinal poits.
- Semi-cardinal points lie at 45° from the cardinal points.

These include;

- South East
- South West
- North East
- North West

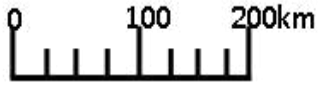

A SCALE.

- A scale helps a map reader to calculate the actual ground distance on a map.
- A map reader who reads a map without a scale may fail to calculate the actual ground distance on a map.
- A scale is only found on accurate maps.
- A sketch map is a map which is not drawn to scale while an accurate map is a map which is drawn to scale.

Types of scales.

This is the type of scale drawn using lines that are divided into equal parts.

Example;

Find the actual ground distance between town Q and town S if there is a distance of 6cm between the two towns on the map.

Solution;

1cm = 100km

6cm = (6×100)km

= 600km.

Therefore,the actual ground distance between Town Q and Town S is 600km.

(ii) Representative scale/ fractional scale.

This is the type of scale written as a mathematical fraction.

It can also be written as a ratio.eg. $\frac{1}{100\text{km}}$ or 1:100km.

(iii) Statement scale.

This type of scale can be given as a statement or words.

Eg.1cm on a map represents 100km on the ground.

LOCATING UGANDA USING THE GRID REFERENCE SYSTEM

Ways of locating places.

- By using a compass.
- By using neighbouring places.
- By using landmarks.

Ways of locating places on a map

- Using a compass direction.
- Using neighbouring places.
- Using physical features.
- Using lines of latitude and lines of longitude (grid reference system)

GRID REFERENCE SYSTEM

- This is the method of locating places using lines of latitude and lines of longitude.
- Grid refers to the network of horizontal and vertical lines used as references co-ordinates to locate places on a map.

(i) LINES OF LATITUDE.

- These are imaginary lines drawn on maps or globe from East to West.
- The general name for all lines of latitude is parallels because they do not meet at any point.
- Latitude is the distance in degrees North or South of the equator.
- Lines of latitude help in determining climate of places.
- Lines of latitude help us to tell how far a place is North or South of the Equator.

Major lines of latitude.

- The Equator (0^0)
- Tropic of Cancer ($23\frac{1}{2}^0$N)
- Tropic of Capricorn ($23\frac{1}{2}^0$S)
- Arctic circle ($66\frac{1}{2}^0$N)
- Antarctic circle ($66\frac{1}{2}^0$S)

THE EQUATOR

- The Equator divides the world into two equal parts (hemispheres)
- The Equator is marked 0^0 because it is the starting point for all latitude readings.
- The Equator is the most important line of latitude because it crosses the world at the centre.
- All districts which are crossed by the equator lie in both the Northern and Southern hemisphere.
- Note:
- A globe is the model of the earth*
- The Equator crosses lake George and lake Victoria in Uganda.
- A hemisphere is a half part of the world as divided by the equator or prime meridian.*
- The area between the Tropic of cancer and the Tropic of Capricorn is called the Tropical region.

Districts crossed by the Equator in Uganda

- Ibanda
- Kasese
- Mpigi
- Mukono
- Wakiso
- Namayingo
- Mayuge
- Kalungu
- Bukomasimbi
- Buvuma
- Sembabule
- Lyantonde
- Kamwenge

Importance of lines of latitude

- They help to determine the climate of a place.
- Lines of latitude and lines of longitude are used to locate places on a map.

Location of the Equator on the map of Uganda

Location of the Equator at Kayabwe along Kampala-Masaka road

Practical activity;

Use the political map of Uganda and identify all districts that;

(i) Are crossed by the Equator.

(ii) Completely lie in the Northern hemisphere

(iii) Completely lie in the Southern hemisphere.

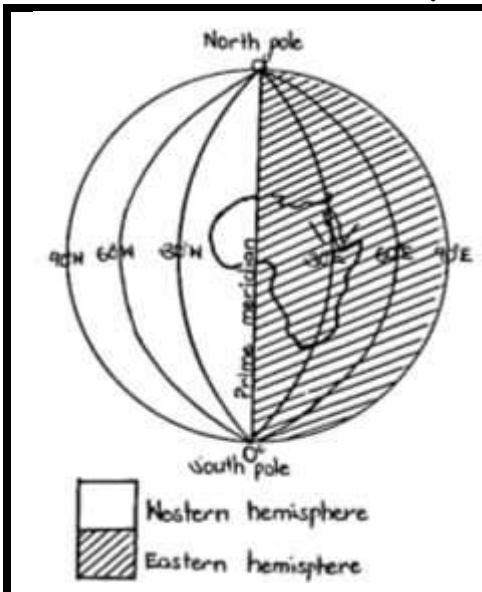

(iv) Lie in both the Northern and the Southern hemisphere

(ii) LINES OF LONGITUDE.

- Lines of longitude are imaginary lines drawn on maps and globe from the North pole to the South pole
- They are also known as meridians.
- Lines of longitude meet at the poles of the earth.

Major lines of longitude.

- The Prime meridian/ Greenwich meridian (0^0)
- The International dateline. (180^0E or W)

The Prime Meridian/ Greenwich Meridian

- The Prime meridian is also called the Greenwich meridian because it crosses Greenwich town in London.
- The Prime meridian is marked 0^0 because it is the starting point for all longitude readings.
- The Prime meridian divides the world into the Eastern and Western hemisphere.
- All countries crossed by the Prime meridian lie in both the Eastern and Western hemisphere.

Note;

- The Prime meridian helps in telling international time.*
- The International dateline separates one day from the next day.*
  e.g. East of the International dateline may be Wednesday while West of it is Tuesday.

Using the Prime meridian to tell the international time.

- A time zone is an area/region with the same standard time.
- Different regions of the world have different time zones according to the distance from the Prime meridian.
- Places which are in the same time zone have the same standard time.
  e.g. Uganda, Kenya and Tanzania are in the same time zone, and so have the same standard time. (East Africa standard time)
- East Africa lies at longitude 45º while Rwanda and Burundi are 30ºE of the Greenwich meridian.
  - Note:
    - ✓ The rotation of the earth on its axis causes days and nights.
    - ✓ The earth makes one complete rotation of 360^0 in one day (24hours). Therefore, it rotates through an angle of 15^0 in every 1hour (60min).
    - ✓ Every 15^0 E or W of the Greenwich meridian is a time zone.
    - ✓ When you travel 15^0 westwards, you lose an hour while travelling 15^0 eastwards makes you gain an hour.
    - ✓ We usually add (+) hours for places which are in the East and subtract (-) the time when finding the time for places which are in the West.
    - ✓ Changing of the time to and from 24hr clock (by either adding or subtracting 12 hrs) affects the units in which the time is given.(ie. From am to pm and viceversa).
    - ✓ Time in each time zone is calculated basing on the Greenwich mean time (GMT) which is at 0^0 longitude.

Example 1:

1. Find the time in East Africa which is 45^0 if it is 1:00pm at GMT.

Solution,

15^0=1hr

45^0=($\frac{45}{15}$) hrs.

=3hrs

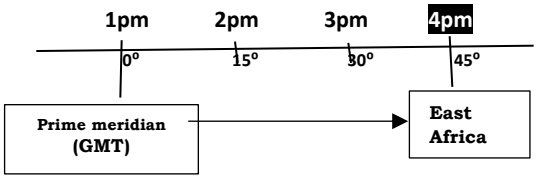

Time in East Africa=1:00pm

+3.00hrs

4:00pm

*Therefore, time in East Africa is 4:00pm.

OR:

*Therefore, time in East Africa is 4:00pm

Example 2.

2. What time will it be in country T which is 60^0W if it is 3:00pm in Ghana?

Solution,

15^0=1hr

60^0=($\frac{60}{15}$) hrs

=4hrs

Time in country T is = 3:00pm (+12hours)

-4.00hrs

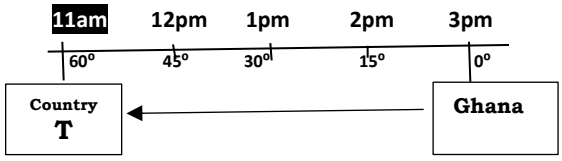

=15.00hrs

-4.00hrs

11:00am

Therefore, the time in country T will be 11:00am.

OR:

*Therefore, time in country T will be 11:00am

Locating Uganda using the grid reference system.

- Uganda is located between latitude 4^0N and 1^0S and longitude 29^0E and 35^0E of the Greenwich meridian.
- The farthest point in the North is Zulia while Kisoro is the farthest in the South.

- Block mountains were formed as a result of faulting.
- Faulting is the cracking/ breaking of rocks in the earth's crust.
- The central block between the two faults is lifted up by compressional forces forming a block mountain.

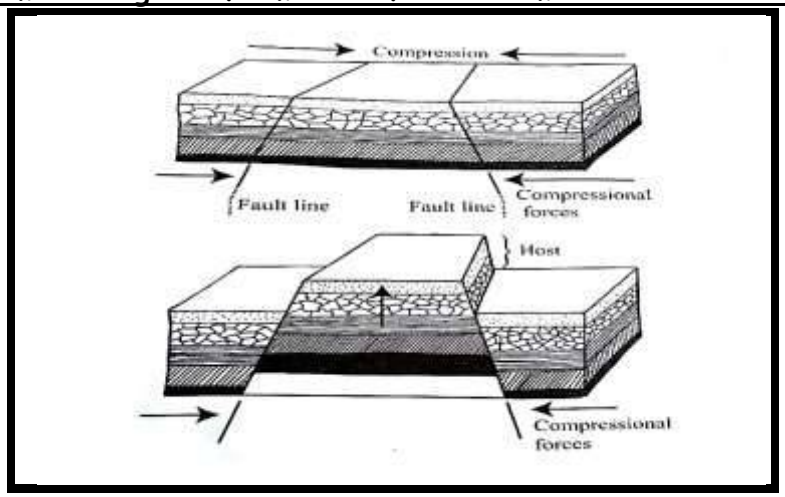

Forces that led to the formation of a block mountain

- Compressional forces
- Tensional forces.

Example of a block mountain in Uganda

- Mountain Rwenzori

MOUNTAIN RWENZORI.

- It is the highest mountain in Uganda.
- Mountain Rwenzori is located in Western Uganda.
- It is surrounded by districts like Kasese, Kabalore and Bundibugyo.
- It forms a boundary between Uganda and Democratic Republic of Congo.
- It has many peaks ie Margherita as the highest and Stanley as the second highest.
- It is called a range because it has many peaks.
- Margherita is snowcapped throughout the year because it is above the snow line.
- Henry Morton Stanley was the first European explorer to see mountain Rwenzori.
- He named it the "mountains of the moon" because of the snow on its peak which glitters like a moon.
- Mountain Rwenzori is a source of rivers like River Mubuku, river Sebwe, River Nyamwamba, River Mpanga. These rivers flow frm molten snow on mountain rivers.

VOLCANIC MOUNTAINS.

- These are mountains formed as a result of volcanicity.
- Volcanicity is the process by which magma is forced onto the earth's surface through a vent.
- Volcanicity can also be called volcanic activity or volcanic eruption.
- A volcano is a mountain with a vent through which magma is forced through the earth crust and onto the earth's surface.
- Magma refers to the molten rock in the earth crust.
- Lava refers to the molten rock on the earth's surface.

- Potatoes
- Vegetables
- Sorgum
- Pyrethrum

- Note:
  - ✓ The high population/ over population in Kigezi sub-region has led to the division of land into small plots in this area (Land fragmentation)

- Low latitude areas are areas which are near the equator, and are usually very hot.
- High latitude areas are areas which are far away from the Equator and are usually cool.
- Areas which are far away from the Equator are usually very cool because they receive slanting sun rays which travel a very long distance to the earth.

Note;

- Most parts of Uganda are always hot because the sun is overhead Uganda throughout the year.

NB:- Sea breezes help in formation of convectional rainfall.

(ii) Land breeze

- This is the movement of cold air from land towards the sea.
- It takes place during the night.
- At night, the land cools faster than the sea.

RELIGIOUS WARS IN BUGANDA

- In September 1888, Mwanga planned to get rid of remaining Christian and Muslim leaders by leaving them to starve on an island in crocodile-infested Lake Victoria. Word of his plan leaked out and a rebellion by Christians and Muslims together brought Mwanga's brother Kiweewa to the throne.
- In October 1888, the Muslims seized power, expelled the Christian leaders and, when Kiweewa refused to be circumcised, deposed and killed him, replacing him with another brother, Kalema.
- In December 1888, Mwanga won support from Christians and in April 1889 advanced against the Buganda capital. He was defeated, but the Christian forces, led by the Protestant chief Apollo Kaggwa, retook the capital, enabling Mwanga to enter it triumphantly on 11 October 1889.
- The Muslims took refuge in the neighbouring kingdom of Bunyoro, which helped them to return victoriously in November 1889, but they suffered a decisive defeat in February 1890 and withdrew again to Bunyoro.

- In 1888, Britain authorised the Imperial British East Africa Company to administer the East African territory assigned to Britain in its 1886 treaty with Germany.
- In November 1889, Mwanga asked the Company's agent Frederick Jackson for help. Jackson hesitated to accept the request, because he had been given orders not to enter Buganda.
- Dr.Carl Peters, an agent of the German East Africa company (GEACo), learning of Mwanga's appeal, decided to respond to it. He arrived at Mengo, Mwanga's new capital, a fortnight after the February 1890 defeat of the Muslims. Since these still presented a threat, Mwanga accepted his offer of a treaty.
- The agreement that Peters made with Mwanga was nullified by the 1 July 1890 treaty between Britain and Germany, which extended inland the line of division between their areas of influence in East Africa, leaving Buganda in the British sphere.
- The Imperial British East Africa Company (IBEACO) sent Frederick Lugard, its military administrator, to Mengo, where in December 1890 he got Mwanga to accept for a period of two years an agreement with the Company. This agreement was advantageous for Mwanga when the Muslims in Bunyoro made another attempt to recover power.
- Friction between the Catholic and the Protestant parties led to fighting in January 1892 in Mengo.
- Lugard supported the Protestants against the stronger Catholic side in the fighting, forcing Mwanga and the Catholics to flee. Lugard managed to persuade Mwanga to return from German territory, where he had taken refuge, to Mengo on 30 March 1892 and to make a new treaty. This treaty assigned separate areas to Protestants (the largest area), Catholics and Muslims (only a small area); Mwanga himself nominally became a Protestant.

- With the aid of the Church Missionary Society, which used the deaths of their martyrs to win broad public support in Britain for acquiring Uganda, Lugard then successfully dissuaded Prime Minister William Ewart Gladstone and his cabinet from abandoning Uganda. The powers of the company were transferred to the British Crown on 1 April 1893 and on 27 August 1894, Mwanga accepted Buganda being made a British protectorate.
- However, on 6 July 1897 he declared war on the British. Defeated on 20 July in Buddu (in today's Masaka District), an area assigned to Catholics in the 1892 treaty, he again fled to German East Africa (Tanzania). He was declared deposed on 9 August. After a failed attempt to recover his kingdom, he was exiled in 1899 to the Seychelles, where he was received into the Anglican Church. He died in 1903, aged 35.

Causes of religious wars.

- Gordon built fort Mruli near Masindi.
- He was more successful in creating additional trading posts in this area.
- In 1876, his views crashed with those of the Egyptian governor of Khartoum forcing him to go back to London.

- Pasha built Fort Wadelai in the Equatorial province.
- Pasha made his headquarters in Lado (now in South Sudan)
- He faced Mahdi revolt in Southern Sudan.

- On 29 May 1893, he signed a treaty with Mwanga II, the Kabaka.

- Portal returned to Britain and recommended the declaration of Uganda as a protectorate. He died from typhoid fever in London on 25 January 1894, at the age of 36.
- On 18 June 1894, Uganda was declared a British Protectorate. In this case, it is therefore important to note that General Portal never declared Uganda as a British protectorate. The declaration was made by Lord Rosebery five months after Portal's death.
- The town of Fort Portal in Western Uganda, where Portal had his base, is named after him.

- AIDS patients are people who suffer from AIDS.
- AIDS patients in Uganda are cared for by The AIDS Support Organisation (TASO).

How TASO helps AIDS patients.

- It provides them with counselling services.
- It provides them with Anti-Retroviral drugs (ARVs)
- It provides relief aid in terms of food.

How AIDS is spread.

- By sharing sharp objects with an infected person.
- Contact of wounds with blood of an infected person.

TOPIC 1: EAST AFRICAN COMMUNITY

LOCATION OF THE EAST AFRICAN COMMUNITY MEMBERSTATES

- Location is the determination of features where they are found.

Ways of locating places on a map

- ❖ By using the grid reference system.
- ❖ By using the compass direction.
- ❖ By using neighbourhood.

Ways of locating direction of places

- ❖ By using the position of the sun.
- ❖ By using land marks.
- ❖ By using a compass.

Locating places using the grid reference system.

- Grid reference system is the method of locating place using lines of latitude and lines of longitude.
- East African Community (EAC) member countries are located between lines of latitude 12°S, 13°N and lines of longitude 24°E,42°E

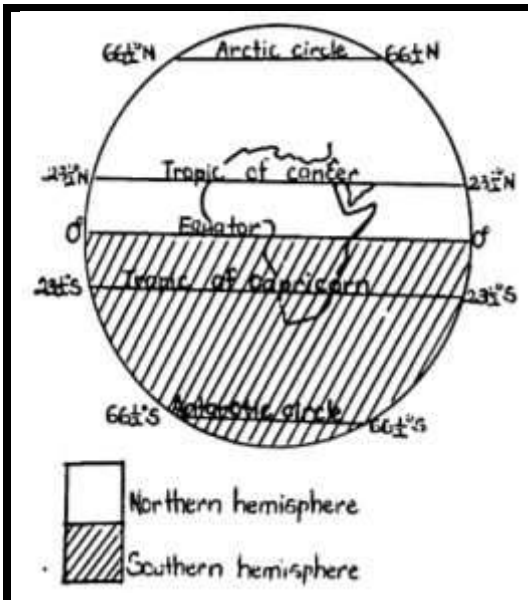

LINES OF LATITUDE

- Lines of latitude are imaginary lines drawn on a map or globe from West to East.
- Latitude is the distance in degrees North or South of the equator.
- Parallels is the general name given to lines of latitude.
- They are called parallels because they do not meet at any point.
- All lines of latitudes are measured in degrees.

Major lines of latitude.

- The Equator (0º)
- Tropic of Cancer (23½ºN)
- Tropic of Capricorn (23½ºS)
- Arctic circle (66½ºN)
- Antarctic circle (66½ºS)

A diagram showing the position of major lines of latitude.

The Equator

- The Equator divides the world into two equal parts (hemispheres)
- The Equator is marked 0º because it is the starting point for all latitude readings.
- The Equator is the most important line of latitude because it crosses the world at the centre.
- All countries which are crossed by the equator lie in both the Northern and Southern hemisphere.
- A hemisphere is a half part of the world as divided by the equator or prime meridian.
- The area between the Tropic of cancer and the Tropic of Capricorn is called the Tropical region.
- The equator crosses lake George and lake Victoria in Uganda.

Learning activity.

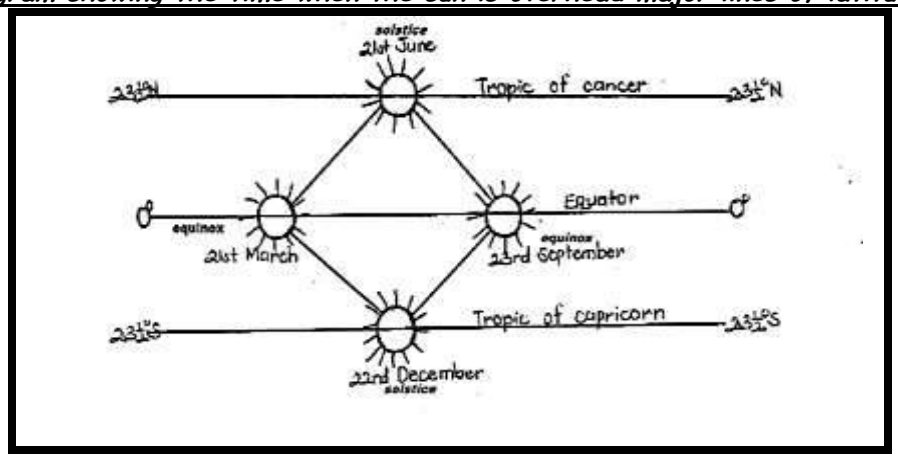

Use the political map of East Africa in your Atlas and identify all East African countries that;

(i) are crossed by the Equator.
(ii) completely lie in the Northern hemisphere
(iii) completely lie in the Southern hemisphere.
(iv) lie in both the Northern and the Southern hemisphere

Note:

- ✓ During the revolution of the earth around the sun, the sun is overhead the Equator on March 21st and September 23rd.This period is called Equinox.
- ✓ The revolution of the earth is the movement of the earth around the sun.
- ✓ The revolution of the earth causes changes in seasons.
- ✓ During this time, the night and day time period worldwide is equal, sometimes high temperatures is experienced and heavy rainfall is received along the equator.
- ✓ Tropical region is the area of land lying between the Tropic of cancer and Tropic of Capricorn.
- ✓ Equinox is the time of the year when the sun is overhead the equator.
- ✓ Solstice is the time of the year when the sun is overhead the tropics.

A diagram showing the time when the sun is overhead major lines of latitude.

- As the earth revolves the earth/moves around (orbits) the sun, it is tilted at 0°. The point is in a fixed direction.
- Therefore in March and September the areas along the equator point towards the sun and receive sunlight for long hours causing a lot of heat in those places.
- The revolution of the earth takes 365 days(1 year).

Effect of the earth's revolution.

-It causes changes in seasons e.g spring, autumn, winter and summer seasons

NB: Uganda experiences only two seasons i.e.wet season and dry season.

The rotation of the earth

- The rotation of the earth is the turning of the earth on its axis. It takes 24 hours for the earth to make a complete turn.
- The rotation of the earth is seen in the rising and setting of the sun.
- Places far in the East see the sun earlier than those in the West because the earth rotates from West to East.
- The Rotation of the earth on its axis causes days and nights.

Other effects of the rotation of the earth

- ❖ It causes formation of tides.
- ❖ It changes the direction of wind.
- ❖ It causes ocean currents.

Neighbours of the EAC crossed by the equator

- ❖ Somalia
- ❖ Democratic Republic of Congo(D.R.C)

Importance of lines of latitude.

- ❖ They help to determine the climate of an area.

LINES OF LONGITUDE

- These are imaginary lines drawn on a map or globe from the North pole to the South pole.
- Longitude is the distance in degrees East or West of the Prime meridian.
- Meridians is the general name given to lines of longitude.

Major lines of longitudes

- Prime meridian/Greenwich meridian (0°)
- International Date Line (180°E or W of the Prime meridian)

The Prime meridian/ Greenwich meridian

- The Prime meridian is also called the Greenwich meridian because it crosses Greenwich town in London.
- The Prime meridian is marked 0º because it is the starting point for all longitude readings.
- The Prime meridian divides the world into the Eastern and Western hemisphere.
- All countries crossed by the Prime meridian lie in both the Eastern and Western hemisphere.

Countries in Africa crossed by the prime meridian

-Algeria -Mali -Ghana -Burkina Faso

NOTE;

- Accra, Ghana is a city in West Africa which is crossed by the Prime meridian.
- The Prime meridian helps in telling international time.
- The International dateline separates one day from the next day.

e.g. East of the Greenwich meridian may be Friday while West of it is Thursday.

East africa completely lies in the Eastern hemisphere.

- Lines of longitude help to determine time zones.
- Both lines of longitude and lines of latitude help in locating places on a map.

Location of lines of longitude and lines of latitude on the map of East Africa.

Location of the EAC member states on the map of Africa

Finding time according to Greenwich Mean Time (G.M.T)

- The earth makes a full rotation of 360° in 1 day(24hours). Therefore the earth moves 15° in every 1 hour.
- Every 15°Eor W of the prime meridian is a time zone.
- Different regions in the world have different time zones according to the distance from the prime meridian.
- Places in the same time zone have the same standard time.
- East African countries like Uganda, Kenya and Tanzania have the same time because they lie in the same time zone. The time zone for Uganda, Kenya, and Tanzania is known as the East African Standard Time. The three countries lie at longitude 45°.

How to calculate time using the lines of longitude.

Points to note when calculating time in any given country.

- ✓ When you travel 15^0 westwards, you lose an hour while travelling 15^0 eastwards makes you gain an hour.
- ✓ We usually add (+) hours for places which are in the East and subtract (-) the time when finding the time for places which are in the West.
- ✓ Changing of the time to and from 24hr clock (by either adding or subtracting 12 hrs) affects the units in which the time is given.(ie. From am to pm and viceversa).
- ✓ Time in each time zone is calculated basing on the Greenwich mean time (GMT) which is at 0^0 longitude.

Example 1.

Find the time in East Africa which is 45^0 if it is 2:00pm at GMT.

Solution,

15^0=1hr

45^0=($\frac{45}{15}$) hrs.

=3hrs

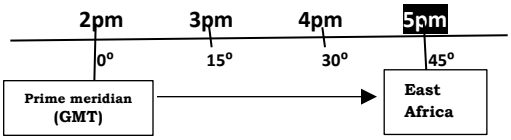

Time in East Africa=2:00pm

+3.00hrs

5:00pm

*Therefore, time in East Africa is 5:00pm.

OR:

*Therefore, time in East Africa is 5:00pm

Example 2.

What time will it be in a country which is 60^0W if it is 2:00pm in Ghana?

Solution,

15^0=1hr

60^0=($\frac{60}{15}$) hrs

=4hrs

Time in that coutry is = 2:00pm (+12hours)

-4.00hrs

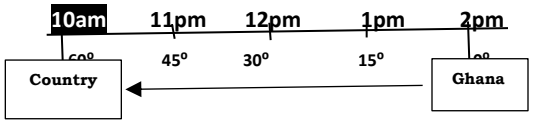

=14.00hrs

-4.00hrs

10:00am

Therefore, the time in that country will be 10:00am.

OR:

*Therefore, time in that country will be 10:00am

POPULATION CENSUS.

- Population census is the official counting of people in a country.
- Population census is the process of collecting, analysing and using information about people in the country.
- Enumerators are trained people who collect information about people in the country during the census exercise.
- The census exercise is organized by the Ministry of Finance, Planning and Economic development.
- The body that has duty of conducting the census exercise is the Uganda Bureau of Statistics (UBOS).

- Population census in Uganda is carried out after every ten years.

Reasons why the population census in Uganda is carried out after every ten years.

- It is very expensive to carry out.
- To allow population changes to take place.

Importance of carrying out a population census in a country.

- To effectively plan for the people.
- To determine the birth and death rates.
- To determine the population structure (composition of the population in terms of age and sex).
- To know the level of people's living standards.
- To know the total number of people in a country.
- To know the level of literacy in a country.

Types of information collected during a population census.

POPULATION DISTRIBUTION.

- Population distribution is the way people are spread in an area.
- The distribution of the population in East Africa varies from one area to another.
- Some areas in East Africa have very many people (are densely populated),some have a moderate number of people (optimum population) while others have very few people (sparsely populated)
- Dense population is the situation when an area has many people compared to the size of the land.
- Sparse population is the situation when an area has very few people compared to the size of the land.
- Optimum population is when the number of people living in an area can be well supported by the available resources.

Population distribution in different areas.

Area A	Area B	Area C

Dense population	Optimum population	Sparse population

Types of population distribution.

- Dense population.
- Sparse population.

SPARSE POPULATION

- Sparse population is when an area has very few people compared to the size of the land.

Areas that are sparsely populated.

- Semi-arid areas
- areas affected by civil wars
- steep slopes
- forested areas.
- rural areas
- areas affected by natural disasters.

Why the above areas are sparsely populated.

a) Semi-arid areas.

- The areas experience long dry seasons.
- They have infertile soils.
- The areas receive very little.
- They experience very high temperatures during day time.

b) swampy areas

- They face a lot of floods during the rainy season.
- They have dangerous aquatic animals that attack man.

c) Forested areas

- They have many disease vectors
- The government doesn't allow human settlement in such areas.

d) Steep slopes.

- They have poor transport network.
- They hinder mechanisation of agriculture.

e) Areas affected by civil wars.

- People run away from such areas in order to save their lives.

f) Rural areas.

- They have poor social services.
- They have few job opportunities.
- They have limited market for goods.

Factors that lead to low / sparse population in an area.

- Unreliable rainfall/drought.
- Outbreak of epidemic diseases in an area.
- Poor social service delivery.
- Poor/infertile soils
- Outbreak of famine.
- Political instability/insecurity.
- Presence of natural disasters like floods, landslides

DENSE POPULATION.

- This is when an area has many people compared to the size of the land.

Areas that are densely populated.

- Around the shores of lakes
- Around river banks
- Urban areas (cities, towns and trading centres)
- Plateau areas
- Areas with favourable climate
- Areas with fertile grounds for crop growing.

Examples of densely populated areas.

- Lake shores
  - They have fertile soils for crop growing.
  - They receive reliable rainfall which supports crop growing.
  - Presence of lakes promotes fishing.

❖ River banks
- ➢ They have fertile soils for crop growing.
- ➢ They receive reliable rainfall which supports crop growing.
- ➢ Presence of rivers promotes fishing.

❖ Urban areas
- ➢ They have many job opportunities
- ➢ They have better social services.
- ➢ They have a large market for goods.

❖ Plateau areas
- ➢ They have fertile soils for crop growing.
- ➢ They receive reliable rainfall which supports crop growing.
- ➢ Plateau areas have lakes and rivers which promote fishing.

❖ Mountain slopes
- ➢ They have fertile soils for crop growing.
- ➢ They receive reliable rainfall which supports crop growing.
- ➢ They have plenty of minerals which promote mining.

❖ Areas along the major roads.
- ➢ Such areas usually have a large market for goods.
- ➢ There is easy access to social service centres.
- ➢ They have many trade opportunities.

Factors that lead to a dense/ high population.
- Reliable rainfall.
- Availability of employment opportunities.
- Urbanisation.
- Industrialization.
- Improved peace and security.
- Presence of natural resources.

Factors that influence population distribution.
- ❖ Rainfall distribution.
- ❖ Employment opportunities.
- ❖ Relief of an area.
- ❖ Social service provision.
- ❖ Government policy.
- ❖ Nature of the soil.
- ❖ Security level in the region/ Political stability.
- ❖ Urbanisation.

How the above factors influence the population distribution of an area.

Rainfall distribution/ climate.
- ➢ The areas that receive reliable rainfall are densely populated because they support farming. Areas that receive very little are sparsely populated because they can't support crop growing.

Nature of the soil.
- ➢ Areas that have fertile soils are densely populated because they support plant growth. Areas with infertile soils are sparsely populated because they can not support plant growth.

Vegetation distribution.
- ➢ Areas that have thick vegetation are not occupied by people because they harbour dangerous animals, vectors and pests.
- ➢ The areas with good vegetation cover like savannah grasslands are favourable for human settlement.

Relief.
- ➢ Steep slopes of mountains have few people due to land slides, soil erosion and poor transport.

- Plateau areas and gently sloping lands are densely populated due to fertile soils,good drainage and better transport networks.
- Valley areas and plains have a low population due to floods and high temperatures.

Social service provision.

- Areas with good social service provision are densely populated while those with poor social service provision are sparsely populated.

Government policy.

- The government stops people from settling in certain areas like game parks, game reserves, swamps making them sparsely populated.

Political stability.

- Areas that are politically stable are densely populated.
- People take refuge in more peaceful countries compared to those that experience wars.

Urbanisation.

- Developed areas like towns attract many people because they have good jobs and employment opportunities while rural areas are sparsely populated due to poor social services leading to rural-urban migration.

POPULATION DENSITY.

- This is the number of people living in an area per square kilometre.
- In East Africa, Rwanda has the biggest population density while Tanzania has the smallest.

Calculations of population density.

$$\text{Population density} = \frac{\text{total population (people)}}{\text{Total area (km}^2\text{)}}$$

Example:An area has a population of 600,000 people, living in an area of 300km^2,calculate the population density of that area.

$$= \frac{600{,}000 \text{ people}}{300\text{km}^2}$$

$$= 200 \text{ people/km}^2$$

Therefore, the population density of that area is 200 people/km^2

Types of population density.

a) High population density.

- This is a large number of people living in an area compared to the available resources.

Areas with a High population density in East Africa.

- Shores and the coast
- Mountain slopes
- Major towns and cities like Mombasa, Kampala, Dar-es-salaam.

Advantages of High population density in an area.

- It creates a large market for goods.
- It leads to a large labour force in an area.
- It leads to high revenue collection in form of taxes.
- It promotes development in an area.
- It promotes proper utilisation of resources in an area.

Problems associated/ caused with a High population density.

- Unemployment.
- Shortage of food.
- Easy spread of communicable diseases.
- Development of slums.
- Poor hygienic condition leading to disease outbreak.
- Environmental degredation.
- High crime rate.

Solutions to problems associated with a High population density.

- ❖ People in urban areas should build storeyed buildings to solve a problem of land shortage.
- ❖ Government should provide better social services in rural areas to promote urban- rural migration.
- ❖ Empowering the youths to start small scale businesses (projects).
- ❖ By extending electricity to rural areas.
- ❖ Educating people to use modern methods of farming to increase food production.

b) Low population density.

- ✚ This is when an area has a small number of people compared to the available resources.

Advantages of low population density.

- People have enough land.
- There is low crime rate.
- There is enough accommodation in an area.
- It promotes conservation of the natural environment in an area.
- Communicable diseases do not easily spread from one homestead to another.

Disadvantages of low population density.

- There is low market for local goods or imported goods.
- There is low labour force.
- There is low tax base for the government.
- There is poor social service provision.
- There is limited social security.
- There is under utilisation of resources in an area.

Solutions to a low population census.

- By improving social services to attract more people.
- By setting up industries in an area.
- By encouraging mechanisation to increase food production.
- By encouraging people to marry many wives.

Reasons why some East African natives collaborated with the colonialists.

- They wanted to get favour from the colonialists.
- Kings and chiefs wanted to get military support.
- Some wanted to enrich themselves.
- Some feared the military strength of the colonialists.

Roles played by the collaborators.

- They helped in signing colonial agreements.
- They helped in enforcing colonial policies.
- They acted as interpreters for the colonialists.
- They provided information to the colonialists.

(d) How missionary work led to colonisation of East Africa.

- Missionary teachings caused divisions among people which weakened the African societies.
- Missionary teachings softened the hearts of the Africans which made them warmly welcome the colonialists.
- Missionaries called their home governments for protection.
- They acted as interpreters for the Africans and the colonialists.
- They signed treaties which were used by the colonialists to take over colonies.
- They educated and created a class of collaborators.
- They supplied information used by colonialists to improve their rule.

(e) Through trading companies. eg. IBEACO, GEACO

- The colonialists at first used trading companies in their administration. This was because the colonial governments were yet ready to take direct control of their colonies.
- For example on 3rd September 1888 the British company was recorgnised and given a royal charter under the name Imperial British East Africa Company (IBEACO) to administer Kenya and Uganda.

Trading companies that operated in East Africa include;

- Imperial British East Africa Company (IBEACO)
- German East Africa Company (GEACO)

Reasons why the colonialists ended company rule in East Africa.

- The companies had few administrators.
- They had opposition from missionaries and Africans.
- They lacked enough funds to meet administration costs.

EAST AFRICA UNDER COLONIAL RULE.

Colonial administrative systems that were used in East Africa.
(Methods used by the colonialists to administer East African countries)

In East Africa, European colonialists mainly used two systems of administration.
These were;

- Direct rule
- Indirect rule

i) DIRECT RULE

- This was the system of administration where the colonialists ruled the natives directly by themselves.
- The colonialists took direct control of their territories.
- Under this system, the colonialists collected taxes directly from the natives and also supervised the growing of cash crops.
- The German colonialists used Direct rule to administer Tanzania.

Reasons why Direct rule was used.

- The colonialists wanted to promote their culture.
- They wanted to show their superiority over the Africans.
- They wanted to exploit resources of their countries of control.

Effects of Direct rule

a) On the Africans

- Local leaders lost control over their territories.
- It led to over exploitation of Africa's resources.
- It limited the provision of social services.
- It was harsh and oppressive to the natives.

b) On the Colonialists.

- It increased rebellions against colonial rule.
- It increased colonial expenditure.
- It increased enmity between the East African natives and the colonialists.
- It made it very difficult for some colonial policies to be implemented.

ii) INDIRECT RULE.

- This was the system of colonial administration where local leaders were used to rule the natives on behalf of the colonialists.
- In this system, local chiefs and kings took control of colonies on behalf of the colonialists.
- Local leaders encouraged and supervised the growing of cash crops and collected taxes on behalf of the colonialists.
- It was mainly used by the British in Uganda.

Reasons why the colonialists used Indirect rule.

- To control rebellions against colonial rule.
- It was cheap in terms of paying local leaders.
- They wanted to increase manpower for the colonialists.
- They wanted to ease communication with their subjects.

Advantages of Indirect rule.

a) To the Africans.

- ❖ Local leaders learnt new methods of administration.
- ❖ It preserved the cultural practices of the natives.
- ❖ Kingdoms and chiefdoms were retained.

b) To the Colonialists.

- ❖ It was cheap to pay local leaders.
- ❖ It reduced rebellions against colonial rule.
- ❖ It made communication between the natives and the colonialists easy.

Disadvantages of Indirect rule.

- ❖ It promoted hatred by the natives towards local leaders.
- ❖ It caused divisions among the natives.
- ❖ Native leaders were used as puppets by the colonialists.

GERMAN RULE IN TANGANYIKA.

- Tanganyika was at first ruled by German East Africa Company (GEACO) from 1887-1891 under the German administrator called Carl Peters.
- The administrative base of GEACO was at Bagamoyo.
- Later, the German government took over the administration of Tanganyika.
- The name that was given to Tanganyika under the German rule was German East Africa.

Roles of the German East Africa Company (GEACO) in Tanganyika.

- ❖ It controlled Tanganyika on behalf of the German government.
- ❖ It collected taxes from the leaders and ports.
- ❖ It built the first railway line in East Africa called Tanga-Korogwe railway.
- ❖ It carried out trade in agricultural produce.

Reasons why the German government ended company rule in Tanganyika.

- ❖ The company had few administrators.
- ❖ The company lacked enough funds to set up effective administration.
- ❖ The company had opposition from missionaries and Africans.

Changes made by the German government in the administration of Tanganyika.

- ❖ They introduced direct rule in Tanganyika.
- ❖ It transferred the administrative headquarters of the German colonial government from Bagamoyo to Dar-es-salaam
- ❖ The Germans also introduced a system of indirect rule in areas that had strong centralised traditional governments eg. Karagwe.
- ❖ It appointed the Akidas (chiefs) and the Jumbes (sub chiefs) to help them in the administration.
  - -Jumbes were headmen or leaders of clans or small groups.
  - -Akidas were usually Arabs or Swahilis.
- ❖ The Akidas collected taxes and supervised the growing of cash crops.

Why the Germans transferred the administrative offices from Bagamoyo to Dar-es-salaam.

- Dar-es-salaam had good natural harbours.
- Dar-es-salaam was well positioned for trade as compared to Bagamoyo.

Characteristics of German rule in Tanganyika.

- ❖ There was forced labour.
- ❖ There was high taxation of the Africans.
- ❖ Africans were denied their rights.
- ❖ Africans were denied respect by the Germans.

Reasons why German rule was hated (unpopular) in Tanganyika.

- The Germans were harsh and cruel to the Africans.
- The Germans stopped Africans from growing their cash crops.
- They also forced Africans to work on their plantations with little or no pay.
- The Germans had no respect for African natives.
- The Germans set up rules that denied Africans their rights.

The First World war and The End of German rule in Tanganyika.

- World war I began in August 1914 and ended in 1918.
- It was started by German and her allies against Britain and her allies.
- The war started in Europe but spread in other parts of the world where the leading colonial powers had colonised.
- East Africa got involved in the war when German attacked British territories in East Africa.
- Many East African natives were recruited in order to defend themselves and their territories from the enemy attacks.
- Eventually, Germany was defeated.
- The League of Nations was an international organisation that was formed to prevent outbreak of another world war.
- It punished Germany by taking away all her colonies in Africa including Tanganyika.
- The League of nations gave German East Africa (Tanganyika) to Britain to rule it as a mandate territory. German East Africa was renamed Tanganyika.
- Rwanda and Burundi were given to Belgium. This was because Democratic Republic of Congo was a Belgian colony.
- Today Rwanda and Burundi use French as their official language. This is because they were ruled Belgians who speak French.

Note:

- ✓ European governments which were given mandate territories were meant to rule them for the good of the natives, till they were ready for their independence.
- ✓ Mandate territories were the former colonies of Germany that were given to other European countries by the League of Nations after world war I.
- ✓ Tanganyika was a mandate territory of the British while Rwanda and Burundi were mandate territories of the Belgians.
- ✓ East African countries were involved in the war because their colonial masters took men to work as soldiers and porters in the war zones.

Effects of the world war in East Africa.

- It led to death of many people.
- The Germans were forced to leave their farms in Tanganyika.
- It led to outbreak of famine in East Africa.
- International trade stopped.
- It led to destruction of property.
- East Africa came under British control except Rwanda and Burundi which went to Belgium.
- Many families suffered because their men had died.

TANGANYIKA UNDER THE BRITISH RULE.

- Britain took over German East Africa as a mandate territory of league of nations in 1919.
- The name changed from German East Africa to Tanganyika.

- ❖ German settlers and missionaries were expelled.
- ❖ Traditional chiefs replaced the Jumbes and Akidas.
- ❖ The country's name was changed from German East Africa to Tanganyika.

- Lord Delamere encouraged the coming of white settlers in Kenya.
- The Uganda railway was constructed in order to encourage the Whites settlement in Kenya.
- The White settlers displaced the Kikuyu who were originally living in the Kenya highlands. This resulted into the Mau Mau rebellion.

Why the White settlers settled in the Kenya highlands.

- The area had fertile soils for crop growing.
- The area receives reliable rainfall which favours crop crowing.

Dairy farming is mainly practised in the Kenya highlands due to the:

- Presence of plenty of pasture for animals.

Effects of the coming the White settlers in Kenya.

PREFACE

Excel Standard Social Studies, Pupils' Book Six has been developed basing on the revised Primary Six Social Studies Syllabus as prescribed by the new curriculum of the National Curriculum Development Center (NCDC). The book contains accurate, relevant and current information covering all topics in all terms of the year in their order. It is intended to guide both teachers and learners.

The pupil's book cares for the interests of the learners in terms of simple and concise language used, simplified content to cater for all learners with different abilities and clear illustrations to make learning enjoyable through observation. Key words for each topic have also been included in order to enrich the learner's vocabulary and mastery of concepts.

The topics have well organized, relevant, and easy to understand notes and facts. It is written in a simple language and is well aided with maps and illustrations/diagrams where necessary to ease understanding.

The book is remarkably precise but detailed in content with no fact left hanging. It has been mainly written for Primary Six in a language that is suitable for both rural and urban Pupils. The book can therefore be used with minimum teacher guidance.

The book has inbuilt and continuous assessment activities at the end of topic. These questions are to help the learners to test their understanding of the concepts covered and are to enable the teacher to track progress as coverage goes on. This also makes the book convenient for individual and class learning by the pupils.

The content of the book has been enriched to enable learners get solutions to the three main levels of assessment at primary level that is to say: Knowledge, Comprehension and Application.

The book is intended to provide learners with knowledge, skills and the desired attitudes and values of Social Studies and the Environment that are important to prepare learners for final assessment of the primary level.

The book is written and developed by experienced teachers of Social Studies and Religious Education and we welcome all comments on the publication with an open mind for the improvement in the teaching and learning of Social Studies. EAST AFRICA UNDER COLONIAL RULE.

Colonial administrative systems that were used in East Africa.
(Methods used by the colonialists to administer East African countries)

In East Africa, European colonialists mainly used two systems of administration.
These were;

- Direct rule
- Indirect rule

i) DIRECT RULE

- This was the system of administration where the colonialists ruled the natives directly by themselves.
- The colonialists took direct control of their territories.
- Under this system, the colonialists collected taxes directly from the natives and also supervised the growing of cash crops.
- The German colonialists used Direct rule to administer Tanzania.

Reasons why Direct rule was used.

- The colonialists wanted to promote their culture.
- They wanted to show their superiority over the Africans.
- They wanted to exploit resources of their countries of control.

Effects of Direct rule

a) On the Africans

- Local leaders lost control over their territories.
- It led to over exploitation of Africa's resources.
- It limited the provision of social services.
- It was harsh and oppressive to the natives.

b) On the Colonialists.

- It increased rebellions against colonial rule.
- It increased colonial expenditure.
- It increased enmity between the East African natives and the colonialists.
- It made it very difficult for some colonial policies to be implemented.

ii) INDIRECT RULE.

- This was the system of colonial administration where local leaders were used to rule the natives on behalf of the colonialists.
- In this system, local chiefs and kings took control of colonies on behalf of the colonialists.
- Local leaders encouraged and supervised the growing of cash crops and collected taxes on behalf of the colonialists.
- It was mainly used by the British in Uganda.

Reasons why the colonialists used Indirect rule.

- To control rebellions against colonial rule.
- It was cheap in terms of paying local leaders.
- They wanted to increase manpower for the colonialists.
- They wanted to ease communication with their subjects.

Advantages of Indirect rule.

a) To the Africans.

- ❖ Local leaders learnt new methods of administration.
- ❖ It preserved the cultural practices of the natives.
- ❖ Kingdoms and chiefdoms were retained.

b) To the Colonialists.

- ❖ It was cheap to pay local leaders.
- ❖ It reduced rebellions against colonial rule.
- ❖ It made communication between the natives and the colonialists easy.

Disadvantages of Indirect rule.

- ❖ It promoted hatred by the natives towards local leaders.
- ❖ It caused divisions among the natives.
- ❖ Native leaders were used as puppets by the colonialists.

GERMAN RULE IN TANGANYIKA.

- Tanganyika was at first ruled by German East Africa Company (GEACO) from 1887-1891 under the German administrator called Carl Peters.
- The administrative base of GEACO was at Bagamoyo.
- Later, the German government took over the administration of Tanganyika.
- The name that was given to Tanganyika under the German rule was German East Africa.

Roles of the German East Africa Company (GEACO) in Tanganyika.

- ❖ It controlled Tanganyika on behalf of the German government.
- ❖ It collected taxes from the leaders and ports.

Changes made by the German government in the administration of Tanganyika.

- ❖ It appointed the Akidas (chiefs) and the Jumbes (sub chiefs) to help them in the administration.
  - -Jumbes were headmen or leaders of clans or small groups.
  - -Akidas were usually Arabs or Swahilis.

Characteristics of German rule in Tanganyika.

- ❖ There was forced labour.
- ❖ There was high taxation of the Africans.
- ❖ Africans were denied their rights.

- It was started by German and her allies against Britain and her allies.
- The war started in Europe but spread in other parts of the world where the leading colonial powers had colonised.
- East Africa got involved in the war when German attacked British territories in East Africa.
- Many East African natives were recruited in order to defend themselves and their territories from the enemy attacks.
- Eventually, Germany was defeated.
- The League of Nations was an international organisation that was formed to prevent outbreak of another world war.
- It punished Germany by taking away all her colonies in Africa including Tanganyika.
- The League of nations gave German East Africa (Tanganyika) to Britain to rule it as a mandate territory. German East Africa was renamed Tanganyika.
- Rwanda and Burundi were given to Belgium. This was because Democratic Republic of Congo was a Belgian colony.
- Today Rwanda and Burundi use French as their official language. This is because they were ruled Belgians who speak French.

Note:

- ✓ European governments which were given mandate territories were meant to rule them for the good of the natives, till they were ready for their independence.

PREFACE

Excel Standard Social Studies, Pupils' Book Seven has been developed basing on the revised Primary Seven Social Studies Syllabus as prescribed by the new curriculum of the National Curriculum Development Center (NCDC). The book contains accurate, relevant and current information covering all topics in all terms of the year in their order. It is intended to guide both teachers and learners.

The pupil's book cares for the interests of the learners in terms of simple and concise language used, simplified content to cater for all learners with different abilities and clear illustrations to make learning enjoyable through observation. Key words for each topic have also been included in order to enrich the learner's vocabulary and mastery of concepts.

The topics have well organized, relevant, and easy to understand notes and facts. It is written in a simple language and is well aided with maps and illustrations/diagrams where necessary to ease understanding.

The book is remarkably precise but detailed in content with no fact left hanging. It has been mainly written for Primary Seven in a language that is suitable for both rural and urban Pupils. The book can therefore be used with minimum teacher guidance.

The book has inbuilt and continuous assessment activities at the end of topic. These questions are to help the learners to test their understanding of the concepts covered and are to enable the teacher to track progress as coverage goes on. This also makes the book convenient for individual and class learning by the candidates.

The content of the book has been enriched to enable learners get solutions to the three main levels of assessment at primary level that is to say: Knowledge, Comprehension and Application.

The book is intended to provide learners with knowledge, skills and the desired attitudes and values of Social Studies and the Environment that are important to prepare learners for final assessment of the primary level.

The book is written and developed by experienced teachers of Social Studies and Religious Education and we welcome all comments on the publication with an open mind for the improvement in the teaching and learning of Social Studies. TOPIC 1: LOCATION OF AFRICA ON THE MAP OF THE WORLD

INTRODUCTION TO THE WORLD

- The world refers to the earth, its countries, peoples and natural features.
- The earth is the part of the world made up of land and water.
- The part of the earth made of water is called hydrosphere.
- The Rotation of the earth on its axis causes days and nights.
- One complete rotation of the earth (of 360°) is made in a period of 24hrs.Therefore, the earth rotates through an angle of 15° in every 1hr (15°=60min/1hr), 1° in every 4min (1°=4min)
- The Revolution of the earth around the sun causes changes in seasons.
- An Orbit is the path followed by a planet as it moves around the sun.

Other planets that move around (revolve) the sun.

Distance from the sun in million km.	Planet	Duration of one complete revolution	Diameter	Position according to size	Number of satellites
57.9	Mercury	88days	4,879km	8th	0
107.9	Venus	225days	12,104km	6th	0
145.5	Earth	365.3days	12,756km	5th	1
228	Mars	1.9years	6,794km	7th	2
777.9	Jupiter	11.9years	142,984km	1st	16
1426	Saturn	29.4years	120,536km	2nd	18
2868	Uranus	83.8years	51,118km	3rd	18
4495	Neptune	163.8	49,528km	4th	8

- The hydrosphere is made up of water bodies such as;Oceans,seas and lakes.

NB. A Water body is a large area covered with water.

The Major oceans and seas of the world

- Pacific ocean
- Atlantic ocean
- Indian ocean
- Arctic ocean
- Mediterranean sea
- Red sea
- Caspian sea
- Dead sea

CONTINENTS OF THE WORLD.

- A continent is a large mass of land on the earth's surface.

The world is divided into 7 continents.

These include;

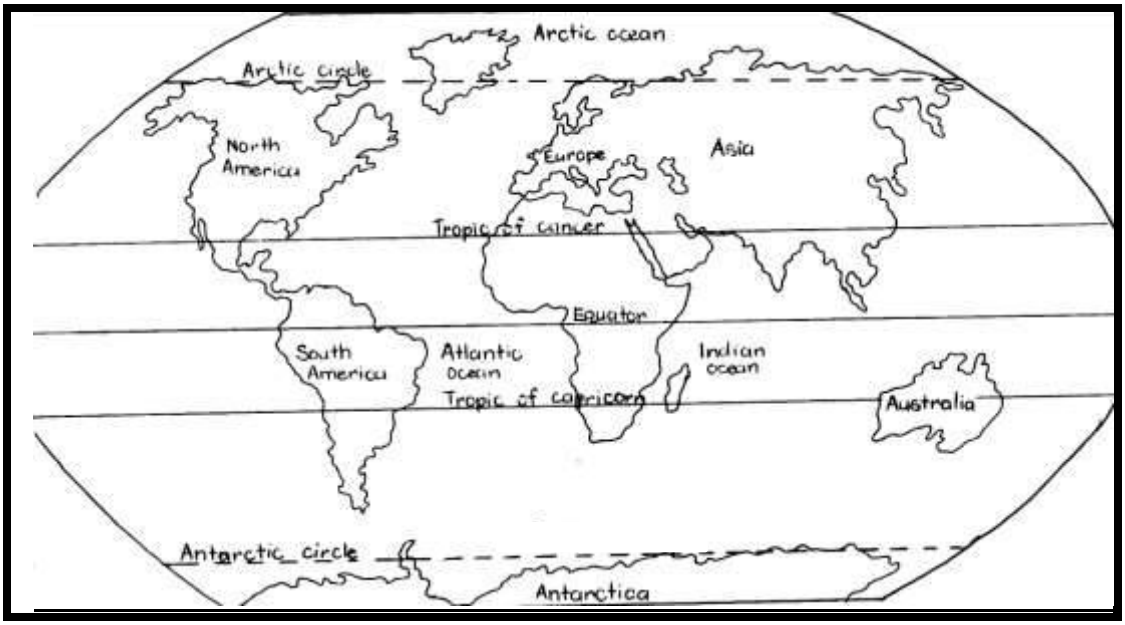

- Asia
- Africa
- North America.
- South America
- Antarctica
- Europe
- Australia

POSITION OF WORLD CONTINENTS, OCEANS AND SEAS

Facts about world continents.

- ✓ Asia is the largest continent, followed by Africa, North America, South America, Antarctica, Europe and Australia.
- ✓ Antarctica is the only continent which is not inhabited by people because it experiences very cold climatic conditions.
- ✓ The highest point on earth is mountain Everest in Asia.
- ✓ Africa is the most central continent. This is because it is the only continent crossed by both the Equator and the Prime meridian,
- ✓ Antarctica is the largest cold desert in the world.

THE CONTINENT OF AFRICA

How Africa is unique (different from other continents)

- Africa is the second largest continent.
- Africa is the most central continent
- Africa has the largest and hottest desert in the world.
- Africa has the largest number of inland countries.
- Africa has the largest race of black people.
- The longest river in the world is found in Africa.
- It is the only continent that lies within the four hemispheres.
- It has the largest area lying between the tropics.
- The shortest people in the world are found in Africa (the Pygmies)

Note:- The Early Europeans referred to Africa as a dark continent because they had little knowledge about the interior of Africa.

Factors that kept Africa's interior unknown to the Europeans for so long.

- Presence of huge highlands at certain entry points
- Africa's interior had hostile people.
- Presence of hot deserts at both extremes of the continent.
- Presence of dangerous animals in the interior of Africa.
- Lack of proper routes to the interior of Africa.
- Africa's interior had thick forests which harboured disease vectors.

LOCATING AFRICA USING LINES OF LONGITUDE AND LINES OF LATITUDE. (Grid reference)

- Grid reference system is the method of locating places using lines of longitude and lines of latitude.
- Africa lies between latitudes 37°N and 35°S, and longitudes 17°W and 52°E.

Lines of Latitude.

- These are imaginary lines drawn on maps or globe from East to West.
- The general name for all lines of latitude is parallels because they do not meet at any point.
- Latitude is the distance in degrees North or South of the equator.
- Lines of latitude help in determining climate of places.
- Lines of latitude help us to tell how far a place is North or South of the equator.

Major lines of latitude.

- The Equator (0º)
- Tropic of Cancer (23½ºN)
- Tropic of Capricorn (23½ºS)
- Arctic circle (66½ºN)
- Antarctic circle (66½ºS)

THE EQUATOR

- The Equator divides the world into two equal parts (hemispheres)
- The Equator is marked 0º because it is the starting point for all latitude readings.
- The Equator is the most important line of latitude because it crosses the world at the centre.
- All countries which are crossed by the equator lie in both the Northern and Southern hemisphere.
- A hemisphere* is a half part of the world as divided by the equator or prime meridian.
- The area between the Tropic of cancer and the Tropic of Capricorn is called the Tropical region.

Activity;

Use the political map of Africa and identify all African countries that;

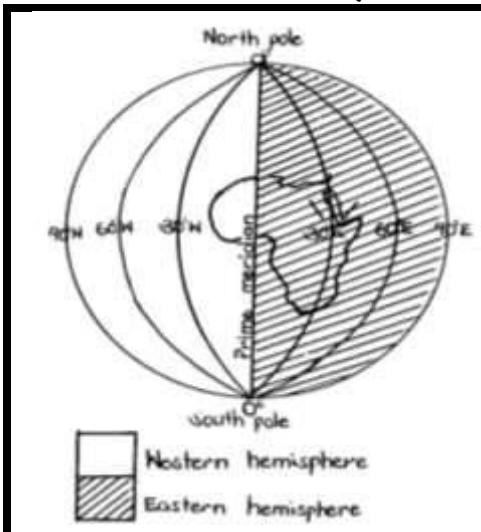

(i) are crossed by the Equator.
(ii) completely lie in the Northern hemisphere
(iii) completely lie in the Southern hemisphere.
(iv) lie in both the Northern and the Southern hemisphere

Lines of Longitude

- Lines of longitude* are imaginary lines drawn on maps or globes from North pole to the South pole of the earth.
- The general name for all lines of longitude is Meridians.
- Lines of longitude meet at the poles of the earth.
- Longitude* is the distance in degrees East or West of the Prime meridian.

Major lines of longitude.

The Prime meridian/ Greenwich meridian (0º)
The International dateline. (180ºE or W)

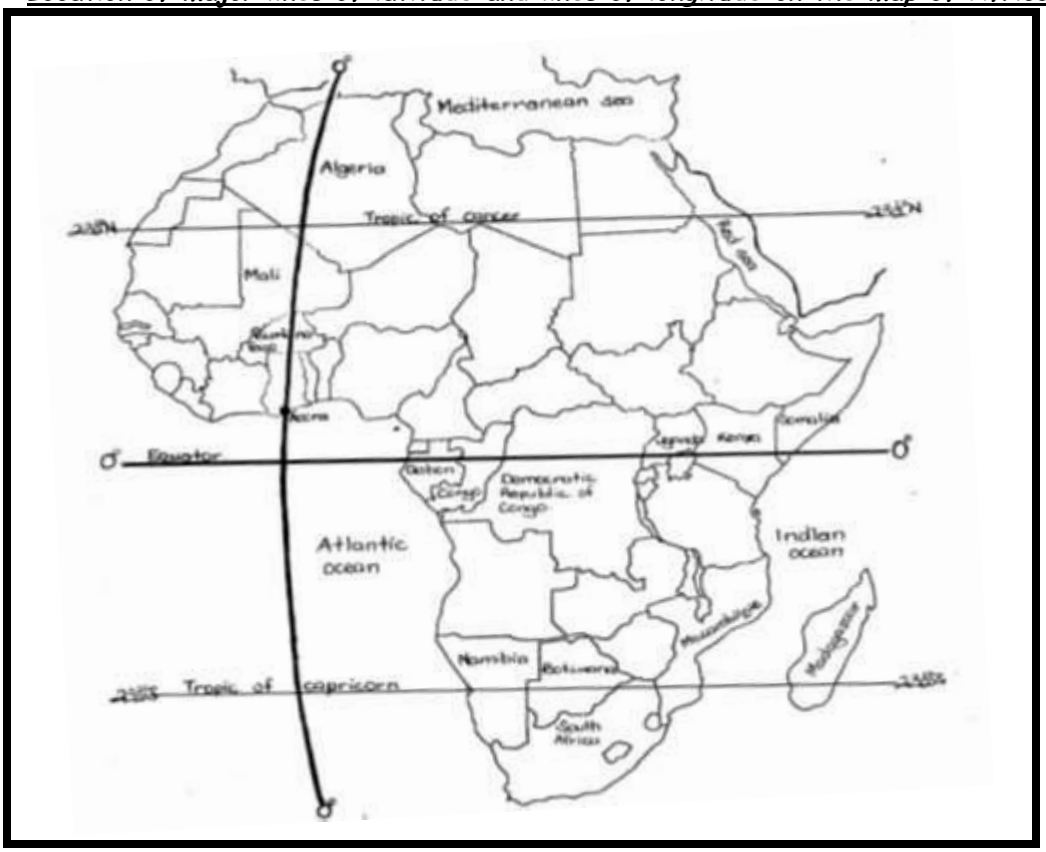

THE PRIME MERIDIAN/ GREENWICH MERIDIAN

- The Prime meridian is also called the Greenwich meridian because it crosses Greenwich town in London.
- The Prime meridian is marked 0º because it is the starting point for all longitude readings.
- The Prime meridian divides the world into the Eastern and Western hemisphere.
- All countries crossed by the Prime meridian lie in both the Eastern and Western hemisphere.

NOTE;

- The Prime meridian helps in telling international time.
- The International dateline separates one day from the next day.
  e.g. East of the Greenwich meridian may be Friday while West of it is Thursday
- Both lines of longitude and lines of latitude help in locating places on a map.

Location of major lines of latitude and lines of longitude on the map of Africa.

Activity.

Use the political map of Africa and identify all African countries that;

(i) are crossed by the Greenwich meridian.
(ii) completely lie in Western hemisphere
(iii) completely lie in the Eastern hemisphere.
(iv) lie in both the Western and the Eastern hemisphere.

Finding Time According to GMT.

- Different regions of the world have different time zone according to the distance from the Prime meridian.
- Places which are in the same time zone have the same standard time.

E.g. Uganda, Kenya and Tanzania are in the same time zone, and so have the same standard time. (East Africa standard time)

- East Africa lies at longitude 45º while Rwanda and Burundi are 30ºE of the Greenwich meridian.

Note:

- ✓ The rotation of the earth on its axis causes day and night.
- ✓ The earth makes one complete rotation of 360^0 in one day (24hours).
- ✓ Therefore, it rotates through an angle of 15^0 in every 1hour (60min).
- ✓ Every 15^0 E or W of the Greenwich meridian is a time zone.
- ✓ When you travel 15^0 westwards, you lose an hour while travelling 15^0 eastwards makes you gain an hour.

Note:

-We usually add (+) hours for places which are in the East and subtract (-) the time when finding the time for places which are in the West.

-Changing of the time to and from 24hr clock (by either adding or subtracting 12 hrs) affects the units in which the time is given.(ie. From am to pm and viceversa).

- Time in each time zone is calculated basing on the Greenwich mean time (GMT) which is at 0º longitude.

Example 1:

NOTE;

- ✓ The Suez canal is a large man made water channel in Egypt connecting the Red sea to the Mediterranean sea.
- ✓ It was constructed between 1859 and 1869 by the French Suez company led by Ferdinand De Lesseps. It was officially opened on 17th Nov, 1869.

- ✓ In July 1956, president Gamal Abdel Nasser brought the Suez canal under control of the Egyptian government.
- ✓ The Suez canal was constructed to shorten the distance travelled by water vessels from Europe to the far East.

Problems faced by land locked countries in Africa.

- High taxation on overseas imports at the sea port.
- Delay of overseas imports in transit.
- High transport costs when importing goods.
- There is limited trade with the rest of the world.
- High prices for imported goods.

➢ Note:

- ✓ Smuggling is the illegal importation and exportation of goods.
- ✓ Smuggling reduces market for locally manufactured goods.
  Smuggled goods compete for market with the locally manufactured goods.
- ✓ smuggling may also lead to importation of low quality goods into the country.
- ✓ Imports are goods that are brought in a country from other countries eg. Vehicles Uganda imports from Germany.
- ✓ Exports are goods a country sells to other countries eg.food Uganda sells to South Sudan.

Steps land locked countries can take/ have taken to solve some of the above challenges.

- By joining regional economic groupings.
- By using alternative sea routes when importing goods.
- By encouraging domestic industrial production.
- By improving security along the high ways.
- By using more than one sea ports to handle their imports and exports.
- By using air transport when transporting overseas goods.

Non-Land Locked Countries in Africa.

- A non-land locked country is a country which has a coastline.
- There are 39 non-land locked countries in Africa, each with one or more than one sea ports.
- These sea ports handle imports and exports for both the land locked and non-land locked countries.

Major sea ports in Africa

Sea port	Country

-Port Tunis	Tunisia
-Port Alexandria	Egypt
-Port Luanda	Angola
-Port Tripoli -Port Benghazi	Libya

Benefits enjoyed by non-land locked countries

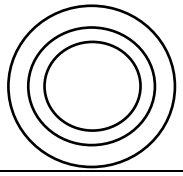

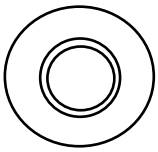

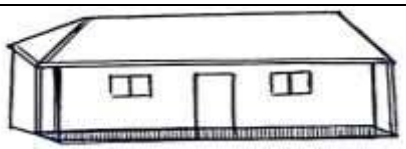

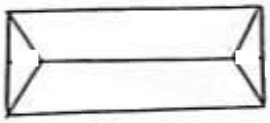

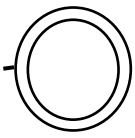

- Low taxation on overseas goods at the sea ports.
- They earn income through taxing goods for land locked countries that pass through them.
- They enjoy wide trade with the rest of the world.

Note:-Hinterlands are areas in a country that are far away from the coast or main cities.

REVISION OF MAPS AND PICTURES.

- A map is a drawing/ respresentation of an object as seen from above.
- Maps show how objects look like when viewed directly from above.
- We use symbols to help us understand and interpret a map of a detailed area.
- The boundary of a map determines the size and shape of the map.
- A picture is a representation of an object as seen from above.
- All features on a picture can be clearly seen as real objects.
- Pictures are more detailed than maps.

a tree
a plate
a pot
a house
a chair
a cup

a hut
a car
a table

Similarity between maps and pictures.

- Both are representations of objects.

Types of maps.

(i) Political maps. These maps show boundaries of villages, counties, districts and countries.

(ii) Topographic maps. These maps show physical features/ landforms of a given area.eg.mountains etc.

(iii) Flow-line maps. These show movement of people, goods, animals etc.

(iv) Thematic maps. These show various social and economic themes eg. trade, energy.

Importance of maps.

- ❖ They are used for locating places.
- ❖ They help travelers to plan for routes to take while on their journeys.
- ❖ They help people to know the relief, climate and vegetation of different areas.

ELEMENTS OF A MAP.

- ❖ A compass direction
- ❖ A scale
- ❖ A title/heading
- ❖ A frame
- ❖ A key.

Importance of different elements of a good map.

Element	Importance
❖ A compass direction	❖ It shows the direction of places on a map

MAP SYMBOLS

- These are features that are used to represent real objects on a map.

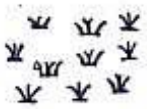

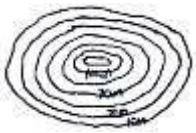

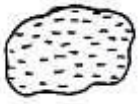

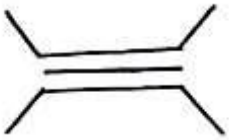

Why symbols are used on maps.

- ❖ To avoid congestion an the map.
- ❖ To ensure neatness of a map.

Common colours used on maps.

- ✓ Green-represents vegetation.
- ✓ Brown and purple-represent hills and mountains (highlands)
- ✓ Blue-represents water bodies.
- ✓ Yellow-represents scattered short grass.
- ✓ Red-represents major roads and boundaries.

Common symbols used on maps.

a rift valley	waterfall	a dam	a canal	a swamp

a quarry	a hill	airport	contours	factory

railway line	a port	hospital	mountain peak	permanent lake

- Tourists
- Pilots
- Mountain climbers
- Sailors
- Scouts and girl guides.
- Soldiers.

A compass direction.

- A compass direction is a symbol used on a map to show the direction of places.
- The compass points are divided into the cardinal points,semi-cardinal points (secondary points) and tertiary points.
- Cardinal points are the four major points of a compass.

These include;

- North
- South
- West
- East

- Secondary points are the directions that lie midway of cardinal poits.
- Semi-cardinal points lie at 45° from cardinal points.

These include;

- South East
- South West
- North East
- North West

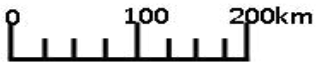

A SCALE.

- A scale helps a map reader to calculate the actual ground distance on a map.
- A map reader who reads a map without a scale may fail to calculate the actual ground distance on a map.
- A scale is only found on accurate maps.
- A sketch map is a map which is not drawn to scale while an accurate map is a map which is drawn to scale.

Types of scales.

(i) Linear scale.

This is the type of scale drawn using lines that are divided into equal parts.

Example;

Find the actual ground distance between town Q and town S if there is a distance of 6cm between the two towns on the map.

Solution;

1cm = 100km

6cm = (6×100)km

Therefore,the actual ground distance between Town Q and Town S is 600km.

(ii) Representative scale/ fractional scale.

This is the type of scale written in as a mathematical fraction.

It can also be written as a ratio.eg. $\frac{1}{100km}$ or 1:100km.

(iii) Statement scale.

This type of scale can be given as a statement or words.

TOPIC 2: PHYSICAL FEATURES OF AFRICA.

INTRODUCTION TO PHYSICAL FEATURES

- Physical features are features of the earth's surface that give it shape.
- These features are categorised into; drainage and relief features.

Relief features

- These are landforms which are identified according to their altitude.
- Altitude* is the height above the sea level.
- Altitude is measured using an instrument called an *altimeter.
- Relief* is the physical appearance of the land.
- Relief features are the highlands and low lands of an area.

Relief features include;

- Mountains
- Plateaus
- Rift valleys
- Valleys
- Coastal plains
- Basins
- Highlands
- Low lands

Drainage features

- Drainage features are landforms that contain water.
- Drainage features are the water bodies of an area.

Drainage features include;

- Lakes
- Oceans
- Seas

Note:-

- ✓ Africa's plateau is tilted to the North. This results into the northward flow of river Nile from lake Victoria towards the Mediterranean sea.
- ✓ The flow of river Nile from lake Victoria to lake Kyoga shows that lake Victoria is on a higher altitude than lake Kyoga.

Importance of physical features

- ❖ They earn income through attracting tourists.
- ❖ They are used when locating places.
- ❖ Some of them are mining grounds.
- ❖ Some of them are fishing grounds.
- ❖ They modify climate by helping in rain formation.
- ❖ Some physical features form natural boundaries between countries. This is because, these features are permanently fixed.

eg,-River Ruvuma creates a natural boundary between Tanzania and Mozambique.
-River Kagera forms a natural boundary between Uganda and Tanzania.
-River Semliki, mountain Rwenzori, the Western Rift valley, lake Albert and lake Edward create a natural boundary between Uganda and DRC.
-Mountain Elgon creates a natural boundary between Uganda and Kenya.

LOCATION OF MAJOR PHYSICAL FEATURES IN AFRICA.

MOUNTAINS IN AFRICA.

- A mountain is a large raised piece of land, usually higher than a hill.

Types of mountains in Africa.

- Volcanic mountains
- Block mountains
- Fold mountains

VOLCANIC MOUNTAINS.

- These are mountains formed as a result of volcanicity.
- Volcanicity is the process by which magma is forced onto the earth's surface through a vent.
- Volcanicity can also be called volcanic activity or volcanic eruption.
- A volcano is a mountain with a vent through which magma is forced through the earth crust and onto the earth's surface.
- Magma refers to the molten rock in the earth crust.
- Lava refers to the molten rock on the earth's surface.

- Volcanic mountains attract tourists who bring in income.

Dangers of volcanicity.

- It leads to death of people and animals.
- It leads to destruction of property.
- It leads to air pollution.

Other features formed as a result of volcanicity.

- Crater lakes.
- Calderas
- Inselbergs
  - An inselberg is an isolated hill that stands above the general level of the surrounding land eg.Labwor hill in Karamoja, Musaijamukuru hill in Hoima, Osukuru hill in Tororo.
  - These inselbergs attract tourists who bring in income and are also a major source of minerals eg. The Osukuru hills which provide limestone used for making cement.

  - Hot springs attract tourists and also help in generation of geothermal energy.

FOLD MOUNTAINS

- Fold mountain are formed as a result of *folding.
- Folding is the process by which land mass is forced to collide due to compressional forces.
- Fold mountains are formed when two land masses are forced to collide by horizontal earth movements causing the rocks to be folded and uplifted.
- The raised parts of a fold mountain are called *anticlines.
- The sunken parts of a fold mountain are called synclines.

BLOCK MOUNTAINS

- These mountains are also called horst mountains.
- Block mountains were formed as a result of faulting.
- Faulting is the cracking/ breaking of rocks in the earth's crust.
- The central block between the two faults is lifted up by compressional forces forming a block mountain.

Forces that led to the formation of a block mountain

- Compressional forces

- It helps pilots and sailors to avoid air and water accidents.

Main aspects of climate.

- Rainfall
- Temperature.

Types and conditions of weather.

Type of weather	Condition of weather
Rainy weather	Rainy
Windy weather	Windy
Cloudy weather	Cloudy
Sunny weather	Sunny

Elements of weather / factors of weather

- Rainfall
- Cloud cover
- Wind
- Humidity
- Sunshine
- Air pressure
- Temperature

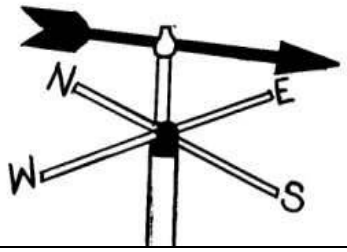

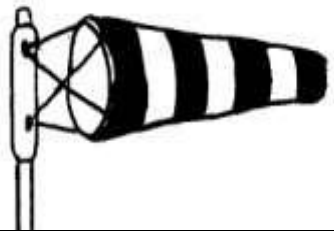

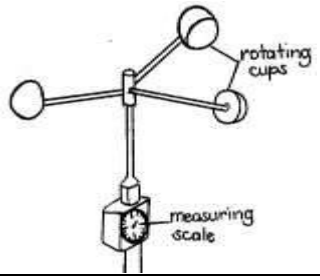

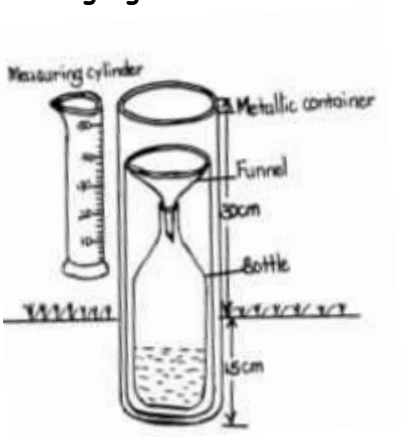

Importance and dangers of various weather elements

Element	Importance and dangers
Wind	❖ Wind is air in motion. ❖ Wind is caused by the difference in atmospheric pressure. ❖ Wind blows from the areas of high atmospheric pressure to areas of low pressure. Importance ❖ It is used in winnowing. ❖ Wind drives away bad smell. ❖ It dries people's clothes. ❖ It helps in sailing boats on large water bodies. ❖ It helps in pollination. ❖ It helps in flying kites and balloons. ❖ It can be turned into power by wind mills. Wind mills are mainly used in Karamoja to pump water. Dangers. ❖ Strong wind destroys farmers' crops. ❖ Wind causes soil erosion. ❖ It pollutes the environment by raising dust. ❖ It drives away clouds that would bring rainfall. ❖ Strong wind blows off roofs of houses. ❖ Strong wind makes water vessels capsize on water bodies. ❖ Dry winds cause desert conditions in areas where they blow to.

Clouds	❖ These are solid drops of rain in the atmosphere. Importance ❖ Clouds protect us from direct sun rays. ❖ Some clouds give us rain eg. Nimbus clouds. ❖ Clouds regulate world temperatures. ❖ Clouds keep the earth warm at night.
Rainfall	❖ Rainfall is the amount of rain received in a particular area. ❖ Areas that receive plenty of rainfall are usually densely populated while those that receive unreliable rainfall usually have very few people (are sparsely populated) Types of rainfall ❖ Convectional rainfall (mostly received around forests and large water bodies) ❖ Relief/ Orographic rainfall (received mostly in highland areas) ❖ Cyclonic/ frontal rainfall (received mostly in plateau areas/ plains) Importance ❖ Rain is a natural source of water in the environment. ❖ It helps plants to grow well. ❖ It helps to reduce dust in the environment. ❖ It helps to cool the environment. ❖ It increases the volume of water in water bodies. ❖ Rain water softens the soil for cultivation. Dangers ❖ Too much rainfall causes floods. ❖ It causes landslides in mountainous areas which lead to displacement of people, death of people and animals, destruction of property etc. ❖ It leads to soil erosion. ❖ Heavy rainfall destroys farmers' crops. ❖ It makes murram roads muddy and slippery.
Sunshine	✚ The sun is the major source of light in the environment. ✚ Africa receives abundant sunshine throughout the year because the sun is overhead Africa throughout the year. ✚ Sunshine is tapped and utilized by many people in Africa in form of solar energy. Importance ❖ It is used in preserving food. ❖ It is a source of Vitamin D. ❖ It dries farmers' crop harvests. ❖ It is used in generation of solar energy. ❖ It helps in drying clothes. Dangers ❖ Strong sunshine leads to drought. ❖ Direct sun rays cause skin cancer. ❖ It leads to global warming. ❖ It dries up pasture for animals. ❖ It causes dust in the environment. ❖ It dries crops in the garden before they are ready for harvesting.

WEATHER INSTRUMENTS

- These are tools used in measuring and recording atmospheric conditions.

Weather instrument	Importance
Wind vane / a weather cock 	❖ It shows the direction of wind. ❖ A wind vane is placed in an open place or on top of buildings to prevent wind obstruction. Note:-An arrow of a wind vane usually points to the direction from which wind is blowing.
A Windsock 	❖ It is used to determine the strength of wind. ❖ It's usually found at the airports, air fields, at chemical plants etc. Note:-A wind sock is not among the instruments of weather found at a weather station.
An Anemometer 	❖ It measures the *speed of wind. ❖ It has cups which trap wind and rotate as wind blows into them. ❖ The speed of wind is measured in kilometres per hour (km/hr)
A Rain gauge 	❖ It is used to measure the amount of rainfall received in an area. ❖ It is always placed at least 30cm above the ground to prevent splashes and flowing water on the ground from entering the rain gauge. ❖ It should be placed 15cm below the ground to prevent the evaporation of water collected and to make it firm. ❖ It is placed in an open flat place to prevent obstruction of rain drops in order to take accurate measurements. Importance of different parts of a rain gauge. ❖ The funnel*-it directs water into the bottle.* ❖ Water bottle*-it collects the amount of rain water received.* ❖ Measuring cylinder*-it is used for measuring the amount of water collected in the bottle.* Note:-Rainfall is measured in* millimetres in order to know the depth of rain water into the soil.
A ceilometer	❖ It is used to measure the height and thickness of clouds.

A Barometer 	❖ It is used to measure air pressure. ❖ Air pressure is measured in millibars. ❖ Measuring air pressure enables experts to predict storms.
A Sunshine recorder 	❖ It shows the duration of sunshine in a day.
Hygrometer 	❖ It is used to measure humidity. ❖ Humidity is the amount of water vapour in the atmosphere.
Six's thermometer 	❖ It measures the highest and lowest temperatures of the day.

A STEVENSON SCREEN.

- This is a wooden box with louvres on metallic stands in which delicate weather instruments are kept at a weather station.
- It protects weather instruments from rainfall and direct heat.
- The Stevenson screen is made of louvres to allow free air circulation in the box.
- It is painted white to enable it reflect sunlight.
- It is raised 1.5m above the ground to keep it free from splash water.
- It is made of wood to prevent it from absorbing heat.

- They are usually dry and bring no rain because they pick no moisture from the land over which they blow.

Terms associated with winds.

i) Trade winds are winds that were used by the early traders to move their boats.
ii) Monsoon winds are winds whose direction is reversed from one season to the next.
iii) Westerly winds are regular winds that blow from the West towards the East outside the tropics.

Winds that influence the climate of Africa

The North East trade winds	▪ These blow from Arabia towards the Horn of Africa. ▪ They bring no rain because they pick no moisture from the desert over which they blow.
The South East trade winds	▪ These blow over the Indian ocean. ▪ They bring a lot of rainfall to the Eastern part of Africa because they carry a lot of moisture.

The Westerly winds	▪ These bring rain to the Mediterranean areas and Cape province of South Africa.
The Harmattan winds.	▪ These are hot and dry winds blowing over the Sahara. ▪ They bring no rain to West Africa because they pick no moisture.
