SPEECHES

THE DIRECT SPEECH

- The direct speech quotes the exact words from the speaker's mouth.
- A direct speech sentence has two major parts i.e. the speech tag and the actual words from the speaker's mouth.
- The speech tag contains the verb of reporting.

PUNCTUATING THE DIRECT SPEECH

- Put the actual words of the speaker inside quotation marks.
- If the speech tag begins the sentence, put a comma before the opening quotations.
- Use a capital letter after the opening quotation marks.

NOTE: Never put the speech tag inside quotation marks.

Examples of speech tags

- said Keller
- the teacher promised
- asked the dentist
- their mother said
- he inquired
- asked Kama
- she replied
- ordered the teacher

COMPREHENSION

Read the passage and answer the questions in full sentences.

When asked if school children should have long holidays, the answers from different individuals will certainly differ. Some people share the opinion that school children are entitled to long holidays while others disagree. In my opinion, school children should be given long holidays. I have my own reasons for thinking so.

The freedom of school children is normally restricted by their parents during school days as they want them to give maximum concentration to their studies in order to pass their examinations with flying colours. Apart from schooling, they have to spend a lot of time doing their homework and attending to other school-related activities as well. As a result, they hardly have any time left for leisure pursuits. During school holidays, more freedom is usually given and children are able to spend their time on activities they enjoy doing. For example for children with green fingers, holiday can be their best moment for gardening. They can also spend more time on their favourite sports. This helps them to keep both mentally and physically fit.

Long school holidays are also a perfect moment for children to strengthen their family ties, since families need to spend time together in order to bond. Examples of activities that assist to develop close family ties are having a picnic at the seaside and playing games together. When children involve in home chores like preparing meals and cleaning the house, they learn about the spirit of cooperation and burden sharing. This helps to further strengthen family ties. Besides, they learn to be more independent and responsible when they do such activities as washing dishes, clothes, and sweeping the floor.

Questions

1. What does the writer think about holidays?
2. Who restricts the freedom of children during school days?
3. Why don't children have enough time for leisure activities?
4. What do children with green fingers enjoy doing?
5. Why are sports important to children?
6. Write another word to mean the same as the underlined words in the passage
   a. restricted
   b. chores
7. According to the passage, where should holidaymakers go for picnics?
8. Why do children need to strengthen family ties according to the passage?
9. Suggest a suitable title to the above passage.

COMPOSITION

The sentences below are in wrong order. Rearrange them in the correct order to make a good story.

1. Besides the relief, the holiday gives us an opportunity to learn how to do house chores.
2. They believe so because holidays are a great opportunity to do interesting activities.
3. Finally, holidays are a great opportunity for us to attend ceremonies and educational camps.
4. This is what most school children believe.
5. School holidays are usually happy days.
6. These chores train us to be hardworking and responsible people in future.
7. These two events teach us how to cooperate with various people.
8. And these activities enable the children's minds to relax.
9. When they relax, they are relieved of the term's stress.
10. And in the end this cooperation enables us to live happily within our communities.

ADVERBS

➲ An adverb is a word that modifies a verb, an adjective or another adverb, making its meaning more specific.

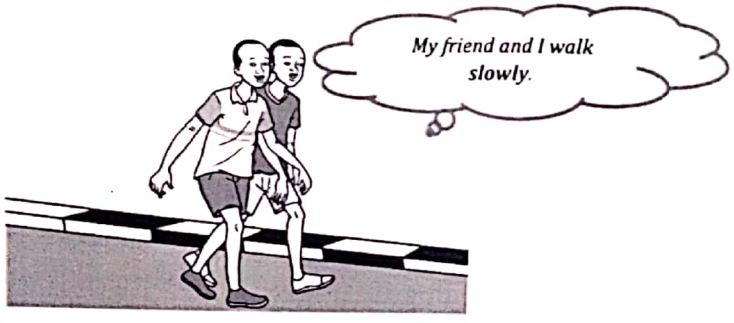
CATEGORIES OF ADVERBS

Adverbs are categorized depending on the type of question they answer.

1. Adverbs of manner----------how?
2. Adverbs of time----------when?
3. Adverbs of frequency----------how often?
4. Adverbs of degree----------to what extent?
5. Adverbs of place----------where?

ADVERBS OF MANNER

Adverbs of manner tell us how actions are done.



Examples

a. The motorist drives carefully.
b. Kabuye writes neatly.

FORMATION OF ADVERBS OF MANNER

Most adverbs of manner are formed by simply adding suffix -ly to the adjective.

Examples

COMPARISON OF ADVERBS

- Adverbs, like adjectives, have three degrees of comparison, namely the positive degree, the comparative degree and the superlative degree.

REGULAR ADVERBS

Some regular adverbs form the comparative by using –er and the superlative by taking –est.

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
fast	faster	fastest
long	longer	longest
hard	harder	hardest
soon	sooner	soonest

Adverbs ending in –ly form the comparative by adding 'more' and the superlative by adding 'most'.

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
swiftly	more swiftly	most swiftly
skilfully	more skilfully	most skilfully
cleverly	more cleverly	most cleverly
wisely	more wisely	most wisely
kindly	more kindly	most kindly
foolishly	more foolishly	most foolishly

IRREGULAR ADVERBS

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
ill	worse	worst
well	better	best
little	less	least
near	nearer	nearest
far	farther/further	farthest/ furthest
late	later	latest
much	more	most

KNOW ZONE

farther v further

The above comparatives and their superlatives can both be used to talk about distance.

Example

- Which of the three cyclists rode furthest/farthest?
- But further, can also be used to mean more.
- The candidates demanded further explanation from the teacher.

Using---------- hardly----------

- Hardly is a negative word and is usually used with words like ever or any.
- Hardly is used to mean almost not/ almost never/almost no.
- We do not use hardly with other negative words such as not, never or no.
- Hardly can be used at the beginning of a sentence and there's always inversion in the sentence when this happens. This pattern is common in formal writing.
- Inversion is when the verb comes before the subject in a sentence.

Examples

Re-write the following using ----------hardly ----------

1. There is very little ink in the inkpot.
   There is hardly any ink in the inkpot.
   Hardly is there any ink in the inkpot.

2. There was almost no one at the post office reception.

3. There was almost nobody waiting to receive the parcel.
4. There is almost no meaning in the conclusion of your letter.
5. You can almost notice no one writing letters to a friend nowadays
6. There are few envelopes at the stationer's.

WRITING INFORMAL LETTERS

PARTS OF AN INFORMAL LETTER

1. The writer's address

   Example

   Police Children Primary School
   PO Box 321
   Mbarara

2. The date

   2nd September 2021
   2/9/21
   02/09/21

   The date is written in different styles depending on the kind of English the writer is using. For example, the above dates are all in British English. In American English, 2/9/21 means 9th February 2021. This is because Americans write the month before the date. It is advisable that the learner uses the British date style, which is emphasised in most schools.

   - Do not punctuate the date with a full stop.
   - Putting a comma between the month and the year is now considered out-dated especially if the date is not part of a sentence.

3. The salutation

   Hello Mellar
   Dear Uncle
   Dear Sister
   Dear Dad etc.

4. The body or message

   The body of the letter is comprised of the message the writer would like to convey to the recipient of the letter.

CamScanner

5. The complimentary close
You may use any of the following endings in informal letters.
Your loving daughter
Your granddaughter
Your nephew
Love from
With kind regards
With best wishes
Yours

6. The writer's name
Here use your first name, not the surname.
The name should be written in lower case letters.
e.g.
Agnes, NOT ~~Agnes Nakitto~~, not ~~Nakitto Agnes~~, not ~~Nakitto~~
Abdul
Alex
Beatrice
David
Lynn Hellen

PUNCTUATION IN LETTER WRITING

There are basically two styles of punctuating a letter, namely:

A. CLOSED PUNCTUATION

Under closed punctuation, the writer puts a comma at the end of each line in the address, the salutation and the complimentary close.
Here the last line of the address is always punctuated with a full stop, not a comma.

Example
Namagoma Junior School,
PO Box 2033,
Mpigi.

B. OPEN PUNCTUATION

In open punctuation, no punctuation mark is put at the end of the lines in the address, the salutation and the complimentary close.

Example
Namagoma Junior School
PO Box 2033
Mpigi

A SAMPLE INFORMAL/ FRIENDLY LETTER

Kyamuswa Village
PO Box 277
Kalangala

30th October 2019

Dear Treasure

I am pleased to write to you again after such a long time. How are you and how are you getting on with the new class in your new school? I am glad to learn that you joined your dream school – Bushenyi Secondary School.

I have written to invite you to my home so that we can spend the May holiday together. Holiday life here is always fun. Part of my holiday plan is to tour different tourist sites in Uganda. Please do join me and we double the fun.

We shall also have holiday camps in some of the famous tourist sites in the country. I am sure you will not want to miss all these exciting moments. Please remember that during our tours, we'll spend the nights in various five-star hotels in Uganda.

I have already informed my mum about this invitation. Please make it a point and join me in the next four days so we can ready ourselves to share this joy together. I look forward to your company.

Yours
Daniella

A SAMPLE FORMAL LETTER

Great Times Primary School
Po Box 101
Kampala

23rd March 2019

The Head Teacher
Kakooge High School
Po Box 1843
Nakasongola

Dear Madam

Re: APPLICATION FOR A VACANCY IN SENIOR ONE

I humbly write to apply for a vacancy in Senior One in your school. I am a female Ugandan aged thirteen and a former pupil of Great Times Primary School in Kampala City.

I sat my Primary Leaving Examination last year and passed in division one with aggregate seven. At Great Times Primary School, I was the school timekeeper for the whole of 2017 and I led the school worship team for the whole of 2018.

I will be grateful if granted the opportunity to study from this great school and I promise to be a visionary student, working hard for better results every term.

Yours faithfully

The Headmistress
Rubaga Primary School
PO Box 411
Kampala

Dear Madam

Re: REQUEST TO CHANGE MY NAME

I humbly submit my request to be allowed to change my name before the PLE registration forms are taken to UNEB offices.

The reasons as to why I have made this request are only two. One of them is that my parents recently changed my surname from Mugimba to Mugimu. The other reason is that I misspelt my first name, so I would like to correct it before the forms are forwarded to UNEB.

I will be glad if my humble request is honoured, and I promise not to make the same spelling mistake I made once given a second chance.

Yours faithfully
Mugimba Vicencia

SENTENCE PATTERNS WITH POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS

Using----------of----------

➲ When using the above pattern, of is followed by a possessive pronoun.

Examples

a. A brother of hers will wed next week.
b. Sharon is a great friend of ours.
c. A relative of mine has excelled in his exams.

➲ We can also use the possessive form of the noun ('s) instead of the possessive pronoun in the above sentence pattern. However, when talking about relationships in a family, two different patterns are possible.

Examples

a. A girlfriend of Peter's visited him on Monday.
b. A workmate of Musa's will fly abroad next week.
c. An acquaintance of Ketra's has not registered for the examination.

THE REPORTED SPEECH

- We have already learnt about how to change given sentences from direct to indirect speech in the previous topics.
- Here is a quick reminder about the changes that take place in tenses.
  There is always a backshift in tenses when a sentence is changed from direct speech to indirect speech. i.e.

a. The present changes to past.
b. The past changes to past perfect.
c. But the past perfect remains unchanged.

Examples
Rewrite the sentences below in indirect/reported speech.

a. "I am interested in listening to oldies," said Bbaale.
Bbaale said that he was interested in listening to oldies.

b. "Did you attend yesterday's talk show?" the class teacher asked Jane.
✓ The class teacher wanted to know from Jane if/whether she had attended the previous day's talk show.
✓ The class teacher asked Jane if/whether she had attended the previous day's talk show.

COMPREHENSION

Read the passage below and, in full sentences, answer the questions that follow.

Man has always tried to overcome the limitations he faces with the help of various inventions. He has invented automobiles or planes for his speedy movement, the radio, the television for his ears and eyes, machines for muscles and so on. These inventions are really the wonders of our civilization, but the invention of the computer is the wonder of all wonders. This is because it adds to man's intelligence and increases the speed and accuracy of his brain.

The computer helps man in various fields. It can make calculations quicker and more accurate than man's brain. Man first started counting with the help of his fingers, but this is now history. When he wanted to take note of the number of assets he had, he could draw lines on the walls of his cave. This too is now in history books. He could also use pebbles, shells etc to do counting.

CamScanner

The computer has today erased all these, that's why it is used in factories, banks, railway stations and hotels in all countries. The computer is also used in schools to conduct online classes, set examinations and to compile students' results. People in offices use the computer to compile and preserve statistical data for future reference.

Doctors nowadays use the computer to diagnose and treat diseases easily and accurately. Fatal diseases like ulcers, tuberculosis, COVID-19 can be cured when they are located at an early stage with the help of the computer.

A day will come when man's civilized life will be dominated by the use of the computer and it will then be a household item, just like the radio, television or mobile phone. To me it's the greatest discovery the world has ever seen and I hope it will soon benefit the whole word.

Questions

1. What is the passage about?
2. According to the passage, what helps man to move faster?
3. What does the writer call the wonder of wonders?

COMPREHENSION

Read the poem below and, in full sentences, answer the questions that follow.

My dear parents, I guess you've heard
The stories of children who are transferred
From the peaceful homes where they dwell
To the dark places worse than hell

So, teach me to do chores while at home
Not to be idle like a rising clown at dawn
Teach me to respect elders and teachers
For this will defeat even my worst haters

Teach me to use my right to education
To fulfil even my greatest ambition
Leaving this Uganda better than I found it
Perhaps adding more pleasure, not just a bit

I beg to spare a minute or two with you
To learn to live in peace with my juniors
I request to learn a lot more from you
So that I don't fall prey to evildoers like a ewe.

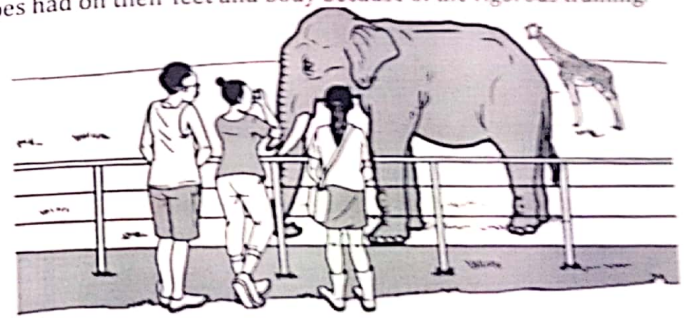
COMPREHENSION

Read the information below and answer the questions about it in full sentences.

I am Naluwu Asmat and I am here to speak about something that has been disturbing me for the last few months. I have seen many people argue over whether or not zoos should be banned. I have travelled to and visited various places across the globe. Like most of us here, I have always been a fan of zoos since I am an animal fanatic. I used to enjoy seeing them do tricks and being fed.

My friend, Kamusiime works at a zoo and I once had the opportunity to see how these animals were being treated after the closing time of the zoo. It broke my heart to see how these innocent beasts were being treated mercilessly. I asked Kamusiime how he could silently watch all the horrific things being done to these poor creatures. He said that they don't have a choice, as their livelihood depends on how well they train these animals, and for that, they have to make them go through strenuous practices and mistreatment.

He said the zoo staff are now used to all the whinings and cries of these animals and the animals have got used to the practice too. It is heartrending to see how some fierce wild animals like the lions just don't even respond when the trainers hurt them. I also noticed the bruises animals like monkeys and apes had on their feet and body because of the rigorous training.



Another factor which concerns these animals is the confined space in which they are put. Animals like elephants; giraffes etc need vast spaces like forests to live in. These animals are put in small cages which affect their mental state very badly. Some are also chained, which limits their freedom to move naturally. Monkeys which could be jumping from one tree to another in forests have to adjust to the artificial surroundings which consume very little space.

Organisations like UWA, USPA and ADI should join animal lovers like you and me to create safe environments for people to watch animals live their natural lives. Isn't that much better than watching them being forced to do something that is not natural to them? Be compassionate and merciful. Stop cruelty against animals. They also deserve a lifestyle of peace, just like humans.

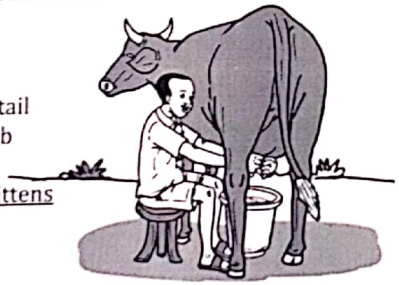
COMPREHENSION

Read the poem below and answer the questions that follow in full sentences.

Domestic animals, a gift from our maker
On them we depend for food and for fun
Milk and meat for man's proper growth
And the priceless manure that makes our soil fertile



The woollen coats, a gift from sheep
But all this the shepherd will forget
As he reaches for the machete to dock the tail
To create eternal pain on the innocent lamb

The innocent rabbits together with their kittens
Bring fulfilment to the young and the old
But heartless man will forget this gem
As he denies them food right in his garden

The cocks that crow to tell us to rise
And the geese that honk to warn us of danger
Are nearing extinction due to man's greed
Feasting on their eggs like there's no tomorrow

COMPREHENSION

Below is a speech by Akech Pendah, a pupil of Bright Grammar School in Masaka. She presented it during the World Environment Day celebrations in Soroti District on 5th June 2020. Read it carefully and answer the questions that follow in full sentences.

Environment protection is the responsibility of the government. Individual efforts do not count as much. But does everybody agree with this statement? Nowadays, a number of people are increasingly concerned about environment protection. However, the responsibility of protecting our environment has become an issue of controversy. I'm going to discuss this issue and present my viewpoint.

First of all, governments should educate residents and raise their awareness about the dangers posed by pollution. They should also make all necessary efforts to ensure our cities remain clean and safe. For example people should sort rubbish for recycling. They should also be encouraged to go shopping using backpacks instead of polythene bags. This will reduce plastic waste and protect our land and trees.

Secondly, governments should also encourage people to reduce their dependence on private cars and instead use public transport and riding bicycles more often. By so doing, we will reduce not only the emission of carbon dioxide from cars, but also traffic jam and accidents on the road. We'll also have reduced air pollution greatly.

Thirdly, governments should take action to inspect pollution control measures in factories such as discharge of waste water and gas following the legally agreed procedures. If any factory doesn't follow the legal steps, the government should give it a severe penalty and impose severe fines immediately. Governments should further encourage enterprises to create energy-saving equipment such as solar energy and hydraulic power system.

To sum up, creating a clean and ideal earth should depend on us making effort on it. The responsibility of environmental protection should be shared between individuals and governments. If we do the above, we'll be sure to leave this planet cleaner and greener, healthier and friendlier than we found it.

COMPREHENSION

Read the passage and answer the questions that follow in full sentences.

We, the humans, remain busy life long. We always get ourselves engaged in work. Sometimes the work gets boring, so we may want some relief from this. And to be entertained mentally and physically, we go to visit some tourism spots. A tourism spot is a place which people visit for enjoyment. Uganda is a country of natural beauty. This is because there are many tourist spots in our country. The tourist spots of Uganda may be classified into two categories. The historical ones and the natural ones.

Among the historical places we have Bigo Bya Mugenyi in Ssembabule District in Southern Uganda, the Nyero Rock Paintings in Kumi District of Eastern Uganda and Amabeere Ga Nyinawiru in Fort Portal. All these places are famous for their connection to the generations that lived centuries ago. They have therefore become very popular to people. These places not only give us joy and refreshment, but also remind us of our history.

Among the places of natural beauty we have the source of The Nile, the longest river in the world. This tourism spot is located in Jinja Town in Eastern Uganda. Another place of natural beauty is Lake Bunyoni. It is famed for being the second deepest lake in Africa. The Sipi Falls in Kapchowa are another eye-catching natural wonder among others. These places have become famous not only in our country, but also to the rest of the world.

Whenever we go there, these places soothe our eyes and please us with their charming beauty. But there are some problems. The government should think about the quickest permanent solution to these problems. The main problem these places face is pollution. A good number of Ugandans always want to dump plastics and industrial waste into these beautiful places. Such evil people should be cautioned against this ugly habit. The government should also plant enough trees around these tourism spots. This will not only control the amount of runoff that pours into these waterbodies, but also provide clean and fresh air to the people who visit them.

Now that you and I are aware that today these places are facing the problem pollution. The government and concerned persons should take immediate action to inspire the young generation to protect the natural beauty of our country. This will help attract more foreign tourists from as far as Europe, Australia, Canada and many other countries.

Questions

1. Why are people always busy?
2. What do people do to get mentally entertained?
3. According to the passage, what is a tourism spot?
4. Mention the two categories of tourism spots talked about in the passage.
5. Which tourism spot is found in Kapchorwa?
6. Where do Ugandan foreign tourists come from?
7. What makes Lake Bunyonyi famous?
8. Write another word or group of words to mean the same as the underlined words in the passage.

a. enjoyment
b. eye-catching

9. Why are the roads leading to Ugandan tourism spots impassable?
10. Suggest a suitable title to the passage.

COMPREHENSION

Read the poem below and, in full sentences, answer the questions that follow.

HOLE IN MY HEART
To continue with life
Since you've gone
The hardest thing I'll ever do
You really meant a lot to me

My dear older brother,
I wear a mask day to day
And try to guard against
The deadly enemy

So elusive is the enemy
That he gives birth to new variants daily
But I long for you each day
Looking forward to the day we'll meet

There's a hole in my heart
That only my Maker can fill
For you're gone for good
--- love you still!
Raheem Keith (P.6 Crown – Semliki Primary School)
