SAFETY ON THE ROAD

From dawn to dusk,
Morning to sunset,
Roads are full of different road users, Heading to various destinations, In the city or village.

Pedestrians trek on the pavement,
Passengers sit comfortably in taxis and buses,
As they pass by,
Trees appear as if they are running backward,
Yet they're stationary.

Hand signals, traffic light, indicators,
And horns are used for communication,
The red light commands the driver to stop,

Orange light alerts him to get ready,
While the green light tells him to move forward.

With an indicator, one can make a left or right turn,
Traffic officers help to maintain law and order on the road,
They stand at the road junctions,
Smartly dressed in their uniforms,
Because the safety of the road is for all.
